Firing German Workers

British Companies React To Anti-Semitic Outburst

By The Associated Press

Several British companies today were reported firing German workers or cold-shouldering German goods in retaliation for the anti-Semitic outbreaks in West Germany.

As the painting of swastikas and anti-Jewish slogans continued in various countries, President Eisenhower added his voice to the outcry against the vadalism. In a message to an emergency meeting of the American Jewish Congress in New York, Eisenhower said the "virus of bigotry" must not be allowed "to spread one inch."

Dr. Koachim Ritter, West German charge d'affaires in London, said several German office workers had been fired in the British capital and one famous London store had disposed of its German-made typewriters, shoes and coats, and canceled orders for more German goods.

The diplomat refused to give the names of the British businesses which had taken the reprisals. The embassy press attache said the number was small.

Ritter said he had made a routine report of this to his government but did not think Bonn would protest to the British government. His disclosure was published after he had made it to German news correspondents stationed in Britain.

Eisenhower's message, read to the American Jewish Congress Tuesday night, said that when bigotry "becomes rampant, it can cause the destruction of freedom and decency everywhere."

Protestant and Roman Catholic leaders also sent messages to the congress deploring the recent vandalism. Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York wired: "Every thinking person is indignant at these shameful acts and those responsible for these depredations in various parts of the world."

In West Berlin, two neo-Nazi youth organizations—the National Youth of Germany and the Federation of National Students — were outlawed. Despite their resounding names, the two groups probably have fewer than 100 members between them.

Council To Ask Revision Of Garage Plans

Downtown Location Proposed Instead Of At Landfill Site

The former administration's $9,642 contract for an incinerator department garage at the landfill dump in Bloomfield, St. Clair Township, may be altered to provide for a larger structure on city-owned ground downtown to provide garage and repair shop facilities for all city vehicles.

A decision to seek a new contract or revision of the present agreement with the Boyd Lumber Co. of Calcutta, general contractor, was reached Tuesday night in a conference of the new Council with Mayor Bert H. Goodballet and Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver.

The change would affect a contract let on Dec. 31 — his last day in office — by former Mayor Fred P. Lawrence and his safety-service director, Joseph F. Ross. It called for erection of a 44-x-72-foot steel building on the city's landfill dump site. The contract covers only the basic building, as the two officials were forced to reject separate bids on plumbing, electrical work and heating on technical grounds.

A $4,500 item to finance the balance of the work was provided in the temporary appropriation ordinance approved by the new Council Jan. 4. That would bring the overall cost of the structure to $14,142. Originally, the cost had been estimated at $12,000.

Copenhaver told Council last night he feels the city should erect a structure on city-owned property at E. 2nd and Washington Sts. that would provide approximately twice as much floor space as the building contracted for by the Lawrence administration.

The larger structure would allow storage space for all city vehicles, including those of both the incinerator and street departments, plus space for a mechanic to do maintenance and repair work, he said.

With that arrangement, the city probably would be able to abandon its present street department barn in the old West End fire station on Lisbon St. at W. 9th St. and discontinue rental of two buildings and an adjoining lot at the old Valley Motor Transit Co. car barn on Pennsylvania Ave., the director said.

The two buildings and the lot are used mainly for storing ashes and salt which the street department applies for snow and ice removal.

The city then would save the $155-a-month rent it pays for the East End property, the director said.

If erected in Bloomfield, the new building would be 4½ miles from the downtown area, Copenhaver said. Most incinerator employes would have a 9-mile round trip each day to and from their work, he added.

Ohio PUC Will Probe Sunday Train Mishap

WELLINGTON, Ohio (AP)—The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio will probe the train derailment that killed four persons and injured 45 others Sunday night, but it may take two months for the PUCO to report on the cause of the wreck.

Juvenile Work Camp Survey Will Be Made

A proposed survey of costs, location and operations of a juvenile work camp for counties in the 18th Congressional District was discussed at a meeting of judges from the counties Tuesday at Cadiz.

Judge Louis Tobin, Columbiana County representative, reported $200 has been authorized by each of the counties for a survey to be conducted by Gilbert E. Smith of Tippecanoe R. D. 2.

Smith, former state placement bureau worker at the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster, has been retained at a salary of $500 a month to conduct the survey, starting Saturday.

His pay will come from the funds provided by Columbiana, Jefferson, Belmont, Carroll and Harrison Counties.

According to plans, the camp will be operated on the same principles as those at Lancaster and Delaware, with parts of the camp to be made escape proof when such facilities are needed.

The officials will meet again March 9 at Steubenville when Smith is slated to make a report.

Mexico Police Hunt Slayer Of U.S. Girl, 10

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP) — The nearly nude body of Mary Lou Olson, 10, her mouth stuffed with paper, was found at the bottom of a muddy ditch Tuesday night.

Gone were the lucky horseshoe rings she wore on the little fingers of each hand when she left her home in National City, Calif., nine days earlier to go three blocks to a shopping center.

The entire Tijuana police force was ordered into a search for the person who brought the child across the border into Mexico and presumably murdered her.

An autopsy was to be held to determine the cause of death and whether the child had been sexually molested.

Her body, nude except for a rose-colored blouse, was found by two brothers, Lucio and Rumouldo Iniguez, lodged against a scrub tree at the bottom of the small arroya.

Ticket Grows For Hancock Primary Vote

Weirton Democrat, Cumberland Squire Latest Candidates

The field continues to swell for Hancock County's primary May 10 as two more political figures filed as candidates Tuesday at the County Courthouse in New Cumberland.

George Konchar, a Weirton Democrat defeated in a sensational recount for the office of sheriff in 1956, and Squire John D. Herron, incumbent justice of the peace of Clay District, added their names to the growing ticket for the primary.

Konchar filed for nomination for sheriff, seeking the post now held by Clayton H. Hobbs, who edged Konchar in a recount vote after the general election four years ago.

Candidates for sheriff now include Konchar, Joseph Manypenny of New Cumberland and Frank A. Pinion of Weirton, Democrats, and C. Dayton King of Weirton, the lone Republican thus far.

In point of service, he is the oldest justice of the peace in the county and is president of the West Virginia Minor Judiciary Association. Squire Herron, 41, was elected to the post in 1944.

Colleagues Give Power To Johnson

Democratic Support Overwhelming For Policies In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas had overwhelming support from his Democratic colleagues today to continue his middle-of-the-road policies in the Senate.

Nipping a liberal revolt, the Democrats killed by a 51-12 vote a proposal to strip Johnson of control of the party Policy Committee, expand its size and direct it to develop over-all policy.

The vote was taken during a 2½-hour closed party conference Tuesday. The liberal group had sought a stronger voice in determining tactics and policy.

By a 51-11 vote the caucus then directed Johnson to continue to appoint members of the party Steering Committee, which makes assignments of individual senators to coveted standing committee posts.

With his leadership tactics thus resoundingly endorsed, Johnson told reporters he will continue to follow the course he has in the past.

This has involved restraint in criticizing President Eisenhower and the tailoring of legislation in an effort to avoid presidential vetoes. It has meant the enactment of compromise measures rather than passage of bills designed mainly to build up a Democratic political record.

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn), who led the fight to take away some of Johnson's powers, said he thought the battle "augurs well for our party."

"Though we lost this time, we may have won in seeming to lose," he said.

A sharper comment came from Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill), who began a move to have more caucuses at which the 65 Senate Democrats could air their views.

"It is apparent that a majority of the senators are not yet ready for political self-government but prefer to stay in a state of political colonialism," Douglas said.

Johnson said he will continue, as he has for 10 years, to call a caucus whenever the leadership determines it would be desirable or useful, "or when any single senator desires to call a conference" and will take responsibility for having it called.

Drunk Driver Given 10 Days

$250 Fine Imposed For 2nd Offense

A 52-year-old Wellsville man, convicted today on a drunken driving charge for the second time in 5 months, was sentenced to 10 consecutive days in City Jail by Muncipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, who also imposed a fine of $250 and costs and a 12-month suspension of his operator's permit.

Lawrence Laughlin, 214½ 3rd St., was cited at 9:13 p.m. Tuesday after his car went off Dresden Ave. and perched at a precarious 45-degree angle with 2 wheels in a drainage ditch and the other 2 on the embankment above, police said.

Meanwhile, Charles A. Troutman, 47, of R. D. 2 faces a drunken driving charge when he is released from City Hospital after treatment for injuries suffered when his auto went off Dewey Ave. Ext. at 5:10 p.m. yesterday and crashed into a tree.

Troutman is in "good" condition today with a laceration of the right eyelid. He was cited by Liverpool Township Constable Wilbert Taylor, who also is Municipal Court bailiff.

Laughlin told Judge Chertoff he has no recollection of driving his car or ditching it, so the court entered a not guilty plea for him. Laughlin said he recalls parking

$75.3 Million Proposed For School Budget

Legislature Given Recommendations In West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP) — Education would take 66.8 per cent of the $112,838,000 in operating outlays from general revenue which are proposed for the 1960-61 fiscal year in the budget bill introduced in the West Virginia legislature today.

$7 Million Tax Plan Asked By Underwood

CHARLESTON (AP) — Gov. Underwood recommended to the Legislature today tax measures estimated to yield $7,400,000 in new annual revenues to finance a broad program of public works to create jobs for West Virginia's unemployed and put new life into the economy.

He recommended an increase from 2 to 3 per cent in the consumers' sales tax rate to go along with his previously announced proposal that food be exempted from that tax.

The bill is unusual in that enactment of its recommendations would amount to a cut of $1,366,000 from the general revnue operating total for the current year. The new fiscal year begins July 1.

As introduced today at the start of a 30-day legislative session, the bill represents recommendations of the Board of Public Works to the Legislature for the budgets of state agencies and institutions in 1960-61.

Proposed outlays for education would take $75,370,000 of the operating total.

Health and welfare functions would take $21,865,000, or 19.4 per cent; charities and correction $2,939,000, or 2.6 per cent; general government $5,957,000, or 5.3 per cent, and other services $6,707,000, or 5.9 per cent.

Accounting for the drop, and more, in the over-all budget total is lack of any recommended 1960-61 appropriation for the statewide property reappraisal program, for which $2,736,000 was provided this year. The board acted on the assumption that enough revenue has accumulated to carry the program through 1960-61.

As always, the biggest single item in the budget bill is state aid to the county school systems.

2 Youths Held In Shoplifting Of $300 Loot

Two county youths, charged with shoplifting over $300 worth of items from stores throughout the area—including Ogilvie's Department Store here — are in separate jails today awaiting court action.

Robert Wheaton, 19, of Lisbon, formerly of East Palestine, is at the County Jail facing charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and shoplifting.

His companion, 17, residing with relatives at Unity, is being held at East Palestine jail for questioning by juvenile authorities Thursday.

Both were taken into custody Monday when they tried to sell a radio at the Surplus Sales Store at East Palestine, where the article was identified as one taken from the L. & H. Television Store at Lisbon.

The shoplifting spree, which began before Christmas, was admitted by the pair during questioning by police Tuesday, according to Police Chief Carl R. Lotze of East Palestine.

Items ranged from small radios and sweaters to cameras and bracelets, officers said. Other stores involved were the J. J. Newberry Co. and Johnston Clothing at East Palestine, Kings Jewelry at Youngstown, Firestone Electric at Salem and Kuhns Hardware at Lisbon.

Georgetown Man Indicted On 3 Charges

But Chester Assault Case Defendant Must Take Mental Exam

A mental examination at Weston State Hospital has been ordered for a Georgetown steelworker, accused of assaulting a Chester woman last summer, after he was indicted on three counts Tuesday by the Hancock County Grand Jury.

Both defense counsel and Prosecutor Frank A. Pietranton agreed to the mental tests for Harry Mackall Beck, 39, in connection with an assault on Miss Peggy Stoltz of Chester Aug. 28.

Beck was indicted for felonious assault, attempted rape and breaking and entering and at arraignment yesterday afternoon entered a not guilty plea to the attempted rape charge.

Beck was one of 11 defendants indicted by the Grand Jury which opened the January term of Circuit Court at New Cumberland.

Schools Closed, Routine Upset

9 States, Including Ohio, Report Mild Flu Outbreaks

By The Associated Press

Outbreaks of mild influenza have upset community routine in various parts of the country, closing schools, dropping production, delaying justice, and perking up the sale of pills.

Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming said Tuesday that nine states had reported outbreaks. In four, the variety was Asian flu.

Flemming named Texas, Tennessee, Kentucky, Ohio, Michigan, California, Nevada, Utah and Hawaii.

There were signs that other states might be added soon. The epidemiologist for Seattle, Wash., was concerned that it might hit his area.

"There has been a moderate spread of flu carried back to Seattle from Los Angeles by people who went to the Rose Bowl football game," Dr. R.T. Ravenholt said.

After Secretary Flemming's announcement, Dr. John Porterfield of the Public Health Service said that Asian flu had been confirmed in Tennessee, Ohio, Michigan and Hawaii.

"We do not think there will be as many cases as in the previous outbreak and they will not be as universal," he said.

Two years ago, a winter epidemic of Asian flu spread over most of the country.

In Los Angeles county, the "Q-flu" kept 20 per cent of city employes, 15 per cent of industrial workers, 10 to 15 per cent of students, and 10 per cent of the teachers at home.

Illness struck judges, jurymen, prosecutors, witnesses, and defendants, causing a logjam in the courts.

Health officials termed the virus the "Q-flu" because it has not

Soviet Plans To Explode New Rockets

President Explains Area Has Been Site For U.S. A-Blasts

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today it would be very unusual for this country to protest Russia's plans to test rockets in the central Pacific since the United States has made tests there and intends to do so again.

May Take Democrat To Summit, Ike Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower indicated today he may take one or more Democrats to the summit meeting in May if there is a possibility the conference may result in a treaty.

The President told a news conference that such testing appears to conform with international law.

Russia's announced plans to test powerful new rockets in that area have brought criticism from several individuals — former President Harry S. Truman and Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), for example.

Eisenhower said the United States always has claimed it is proper to use the high seas for valid scientific experiment, and has been doing so after notifying all concerned and warning away anyone who could be injured.

This was Eisenhower's first news conference since Dec. 2. On hand for it were 253 reporters.

Among other matters coming up in the conference were:

POLITICS — The decision by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York to bow out of the Republican presidential race does create a certain atomosphere of no competition for the GOP nomination, Eisenhower remarked with a smile. Rockefeller's decision has given Vice President Richard M. Nixon what appears to be a stranglehold on the nomination.

Eisenhower recalled, however, that he had no competition for the nomination when he decided to seek a second term in 1956. With a chuckle, he added that did not hurt that election particularly.

As he has in the past, the President said he believes there is a number of highly qualified Republicans who would make good presidents.

DEFENSE — With a show of anger, Eisenhower vigorously rejected what he termed a reporter's implication that the nation's defense program is being conducted on a partisan basis. Sarah McClendon, representing Texas newspapers, told Eisenhower that Republicans who met with him at the White House Thursday had suggested that anyone who raises a question of the adequacy of the

A 52-year-old Wellsville man, convicted today on a drunken driving charge for the second time in 5 months, was sentenced to 10 consecutive days in City Jail by Muncipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, who also imposed a fine of $250 and costs and a 12-month suspension of his operator's permit.

Lawrence Laughlin, 214½ 3rd St., was cited at 9:13 p.m. Tuesday after his car went off Dresden Ave. and perched at a precarious 45-degree angle with 2 wheels in a drainage ditch and the other 2 on the embankment above, police said.

Meanwhile, Charles A. Troutman, 47, of R. D. 2 faces a drunken driving charge when he is released from City Hospital after treatment for injuries suffered when his auto went off Dewey Ave. Ext. at 5:10 p.m. yesterday and crashed into a tree.

Troutman is in "good" condition today with a laceration of the right eyelid. He was cited by Liverpool Township Constable Wilbert Taylor, who also is Municipal Court bailiff.

Laughlin told Judge Chertoff he has no recollection of driving his car or ditching it, so the court entered a not guilty plea for him. Laughlin said he recalls parking

Soviet Plans To Explode New Rockets

President Explains Area Has Been Site For U.S. A-Blasts

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today it would be very unusual for this country to protest Russia's plans to test rockets in the central Pacific since the United States has made tests there and intends to do so again.

May Take Democrat To Summit, Ike Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower indicated today he may take one or more Democrats to the summit meeting in May if there is a possibility the conference may result in a treaty.

The President told a news conference that such testing appears to conform with international law.

Russia's announced plans to test powerful new rockets in that area have brought criticism from several individuals — former President Harry S. Truman and Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), for example.

Eisenhower said the United States always has claimed it is proper to use the high seas for valid scientific experiment, and has been doing so after notifying all concerned and warning away anyone who could be injured.

This was Eisenhower's first news conference since Dec. 2. On hand for it were 253 reporters.

Among other matters coming up in the conference were:

POLITICS — The decision by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York to bow out of the Republican presidential race does create a certain atomosphere of no competition for the GOP nomination, Eisenhower remarked with a smile. Rockefeller's decision has given Vice President Richard M. Nixon what appears to be a stranglehold on the nomination.

Eisenhower recalled, however, that he had no competition for the nomination when he decided to seek a second term in 1956. With a chuckle, he added that did not hurt that election particularly.

As he has in the past, the President said he believes there is a number of highly qualified Republicans who would make good presidents.

DEFENSE — With a show of anger, Eisenhower vigorously rejected what he termed a reporter's implication that the nation's defense program is being conducted on a partisan basis. Sarah McClendon, representing Texas newspapers, told Eisenhower that Republicans who met with him at the White House Thursday had suggested that anyone who raises a question of the adequacy of the

$75.3 Million Proposed For School Budget

Legislature Given Recommendations In West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP) — Education would take 66.8 per cent of the $112,838,000 in operating outlays from general revenue which are proposed for the 1960-61 fiscal year in the budget bill introduced in the West Virginia legislature today.

$7 Million Tax Plan Asked By Underwood

CHARLESTON (AP) — Gov. Underwood recommended to the Legislature today tax measures estimated to yield $7,400,000 in new annual revenues to finance a broad program of public works to create jobs for West Virginia's unemployed and put new life into the economy.

He recommended an increase from 2 to 3 per cent in the consumers' sales tax rate to go along with his previously announced proposal that food be exempted from that tax.

The bill is unusual in that enactment of its recommendations would amount to a cut of $1,366,000 from the general revnue operating total for the current year. The new fiscal year begins July 1.

As introduced today at the start of a 30-day legislative session, the bill represents recommendations of the Board of Public Works to the Legislature for the budgets of state agencies and institutions in 1960-61.

Proposed outlays for education would take $75,370,000 of the operating total.

Health and welfare functions would take $21,865,000, or 19.4 per cent; charities and correction $2,939,000, or 2.6 per cent; general government $5,957,000, or 5.3 per cent, and other services $6,707,000, or 5.9 per cent.

Accounting for the drop, and more, in the over-all budget total is lack of any recommended 1960-61 appropriation for the statewide property reappraisal program, for which $2,736,000 was provided this year. The board acted on the assumption that enough revenue has accumulated to carry the program through 1960-61.

As always, the biggest single item in the budget bill is state aid to the county school systems.

2 Youths Held In Shoplifting Of $300 Loot

Two county youths, charged with shoplifting over $300 worth of items from stores throughout the area—including Ogilvie's Department Store here — are in separate jails today awaiting court action.

Robert Wheaton, 19, of Lisbon, formerly of East Palestine, is at the County Jail facing charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and shoplifting.

His companion, 17, residing with relatives at Unity, is being held at East Palestine jail for questioning by juvenile authorities Thursday.

Both were taken into custody Monday when they tried to sell a radio at the Surplus Sales Store at East Palestine, where the article was identified as one taken from the L. & H. Television Store at Lisbon.

The shoplifting spree, which began before Christmas, was admitted by the pair during questioning by police Tuesday, according to Police Chief Carl R. Lotze of East Palestine.

Items ranged from small radios and sweaters to cameras and bracelets, officers said. Other stores involved were the J. J. Newberry Co. and Johnston Clothing at East Palestine, Kings Jewelry at Youngstown, Firestone Electric at Salem and Kuhns Hardware at Lisbon.

Georgetown Man Indicted On 3 Charges

But Chester Assault Case Defendant Must Take Mental Exam

A mental examination at Weston State Hospital has been ordered for a Georgetown steelworker, accused of assaulting a Chester woman last summer, after he was indicted on three counts Tuesday by the Hancock County Grand Jury.

Both defense counsel and Prosecutor Frank A. Pietranton agreed to the mental tests for Harry Mackall Beck, 39, in connection with an assault on Miss Peggy Stoltz of Chester Aug. 28.

Beck was indicted for felonious assault, attempted rape and breaking and entering and at arraignment yesterday afternoon entered a not guilty plea to the attempted rape charge.

Beck was one of 11 defendants indicted by the Grand Jury which opened the January term of Circuit Court at New Cumberland.

Schools Closed, Routine Upset

9 States, Including Ohio, Report Mild Flu Outbreaks

By The Associated Press

Outbreaks of mild influenza have upset community routine in various parts of the country, closing schools, dropping production, delaying justice, and perking up the sale of pills.

Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming said Tuesday that nine states had reported outbreaks. In four, the variety was Asian flu.

Flemming named Texas, Tennessee, Kentucky, Ohio, Michigan, California, Nevada, Utah and Hawaii.

There were signs that other states might be added soon. The epidemiologist for Seattle, Wash., was concerned that it might hit his area.

"There has been a moderate spread of flu carried back to Seattle from Los Angeles by people who went to the Rose Bowl football game," Dr. R.T. Ravenholt said.

After Secretary Flemming's announcement, Dr. John Porterfield of the Public Health Service said that Asian flu had been confirmed in Tennessee, Ohio, Michigan and Hawaii.

"We do not think there will be as many cases as in the previous outbreak and they will not be as universal," he said.

Two years ago, a winter epidemic of Asian flu spread over most of the country.

In Los Angeles county, the "Q-flu" kept 20 per cent of city employes, 15 per cent of industrial workers, 10 to 15 per cent of students, and 10 per cent of the teachers at home.

Illness struck judges, jurymen, prosecutors, witnesses, and defendants, causing a logjam in the courts.

Pastors To Investigate Drink Sales To Minors

WEIRTON — The Rev. Allen S. Fields of New Cumberland was appointed chairman of a committee to investigate the alleged serving of liquor to minors in city taverns when the Ministerial Association met Tuesday in the First Methodist Church.

The action was taken after a mother appeared before the association yesterday, charging that her son had been served liquor in a local tavern and she sought the aid of the association in stopping the practice.

The committee will meet again Thursday in the church to discuss plans for studying the situation and decide if there is any feasible action which may be taken.

Driver

his auto on Walnut St. and walking to a tavern nearby, where he had three glasses of beer, but beyond that he remembers nothing.

Laughlin was convicted on the testimony of Patrolman E. R. Furgason, who said he and Lt. Clyde Boso took the motorist into custody after discovering the ditched car. He said he and the lieutenant went to the nearby Paramount Service Station, where they found Laughlin making arrangements to have his car towed out of the ditch.

Describing the defendant's physical condition, the officer testified he obviously was intoxicated. Laughlin admitted that he had been drinking and that he had been driving the car, Furgason testified.

Judge Chertoff told Laughlin the court records show he was fined $300 and costs, given a 10-day jail term and had his driver's license suspended for 6 months on a similar charge Aug. 11. In response to a question from the judge. Laughlin said his driver's license was returned to him when he obtained financial responsibility insurance.

The judge also pointed out the record shows Laughlin paid $50 on the previous fine and made arrangements to settle the balance in installments, but has paid nothing further. Laughlin replied he has been unemployed.

Because of the two convictions, Laughlin has accumulated 12 points under the Bureau of Motor Vehicles "demerit" system, which means he now will face revocation of his license, the judge said.

After pronouncing sentence, the judge told Laughlin: "You will serve the 10 days in jail consecutively, starting today, which means you cannot be released until Jan. 23. That $250 fine also will have to be paid before you are released."

"Your case is typical of what I have been complaining about—contracts to pay fines," the judge added. "You might have thought you got away with something, but you didn't.

"You are the type of driver I'm bitterly opposed to. I don't think you should be driving an auto."

Underworld Characters To Be Sentenced

NEW YORK (AP) — Twenty men convicted of conspiracy to hide the real purpose of the Apalachin underworld convention were called to federal court today for sentencing.

Each is liable to a maximum of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Judge Irving R. Kaufman, who presided at the long trial last fall, will hand out the sentences. Kaufman Tuesday affirmed his previous decision that policemen have a legal right to stop, question and search suspects.

Defense attorneys had moved to throw out the testimony of the prosecution's star witness, state police Sgt. Edgar Croswell, who led the raid Nov. 14, 1957, at the hillside estate of the late Joseph Barbara Sr. at Apalachin, N.Y.

In a 41-page opinion, Kaufman amplified his ruling that state police had a legal right to stop 63 men who attended the meeting.

"There is no value in the limitation of police power for the sake of limitation," Kaufman said.

A jury of eight men and four women convicted the 20 delegates of conspiracy last Dec. 18 after a 53-day trial and 15 hours of deliberation.

The defendants had given a variety of explanations for the conclave to various investigative agencies—ranging from a visit to a sick friend to auto trouble.

The government conceded at the trial that it did not know the secret purpose of the meeting. But one report indicated the conclave was called to split up territories, divide proceeds and discuss extension of racketeering in labor unions.

Underworld Characters To Be Sentenced

NEW YORK (AP) — Twenty men convicted of conspiracy to hide the real purpose of the Apalachin underworld convention were called to federal court today for sentencing.

Each is liable to a maximum of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Judge Irving R. Kaufman, who presided at the long trial last fall, will hand out the sentences. Kaufman Tuesday affirmed his previous decision that policemen have a legal right to stop, question and search suspects.

Defense attorneys had moved to throw out the testimony of the prosecution's star witness, state police Sgt. Edgar Croswell, who led the raid Nov. 14, 1957, at the hillside estate of the late Joseph Barbara Sr. at Apalachin, N.Y.

In a 41-page opinion, Kaufman amplified his ruling that state police had a legal right to stop 63 men who attended the meeting.

"There is no value in the limitation of police power for the sake of limitation," Kaufman said.

A jury of eight men and four women convicted the 20 delegates of conspiracy last Dec. 18 after a 53-day trial and 15 hours of deliberation.

The defendants had given a variety of explanations for the conclave to various investigative agencies—ranging from a visit to a sick friend to auto trouble.

The government conceded at the trial that it did not know the secret purpose of the meeting. But one report indicated the conclave was called to split up territories, divide proceeds and discuss extension of racketeering in labor unions.

Double Standard In U.S. Finance

Washington's hottest speculation at the moment is about President Eisenhower's estimate of a budget surplus of more than four billion dollars in the 1960-61 budget.

He thinks booming business in the 12 months starting next July 1 will boost income as much as five billion dollars. The extra money, provided spending can be held down, should be used to whittle the national debt, he believes.

Two threats to the prospect are a push among congressional spendocrats to increase federal spending and an equally strong push among congressional vote-getters to cut taxes, wiping out the prospective surplus before it has a chance to materialize.

Meanwhile, if something happened to the business boom and tax collections failed to increase, the spendocrats and the vote-getters would have pushed the federal government back into deficit financing.

Never was it plainer that a double standard exists in U.S. finance.

FIRST IS THE standard honored by Americans who believe public money exists only for social and political manipulation.

Second is the standard honored by Americans who believe public money is subject to the same usages, customs and laws that control private money.

If a private debtor were expecting a substantial increase in personal income, after years of "going on the cuff" for deficiencies, he would be expected to reduce his debts. Any other decision would put both his sanity and his integrity in doubt.

Every monetary expert who understands the vital need to preserve confidence in the dollar would recommend debt reduction as the only rational choice, if there really is a excess of income over expenditure in the next federal budget.

Every money counsellor who advises individuals would have to recommed public debt reduction, if only as a practical means of maintaining future ability to borrow on favorable terms.

Every citizen with routine knowledge of the famous Mr. Micawber's dictum for stay-in out of debtor's prison would say unhesitatingly that the proper thing to do is reduce debt when income rises.

YET, MANY people in government are solemnly going through the motions of debating whether it would be better to jack up spending by a few billion dollars or reduce taxes by a few billions to make certain nothing can be paid on the national debt. To them, the debt is not important.

Small wonder that the deliberations of the federal government on money matters sometimes seem like something from Looking Glass Lad, where everything is upside down and backward.

It will take all the wisdom of the sound-money people in Congress to stall off lint-pickers and fuzz-brains who would bog down in their personal affairs if they handled them as crazily as they handle national affairs.

No Shortcut To Safety

The toll of fire in Columbiana County again is reflected in the annual year-end reports.

East Liverpool's 1959 loss — about $40,000 compared with $139,000 the previous year — is down approximately 70 per cent, while Wellsville's is up some $4,000 to $17,545, indicating the wide range of factors which contribute to the figures.

Carelessness, pure chance, regard for safety precautions, skill of firemen, weather and other intangibles all play a part.

One cannot tie a community's fire loss to any one factor any more than one can be sure of not having a fire in a home or business by following all the safety rules.

But by maintaining a good department, removing all potential hazards and practicing the necessary safety procedures, an individual and a community can minimize the fire threat.

Fire is a constant danger at home, at school or at work, and will continue to be so throughout 1960 and the years to follow. It can be curbed only with constant awareness of its threat and a willingness to work for prevention.

Throughout the district the actual fire loss was only a fraction of the potential damage and loss of life had it not been for quick and able fire-fighters and the growing awareness of the need for safety practices.

Each fire of 1959 offered a hard-learned lesson to someone, somewhere that there are no shortcuts to safety.

Confession Panel To Help Police

The U.S. Supreme Court has blown away whatever cloud of doubt still hung over criminal convictions obtained by confessions in which the defendants' rights were violated.

It will not uphold the convictions.

This ruling, made in a 1948 robber conviction struck down by the U.S. Supreme Court last Monday, is consistent with the trend of judicial rulings in recent years. Even confessions obtained in presumably legal ways have been challenged with a high rate of success.

Though it has been common for lawyers to view these reversals as triumphs for their profession in defending the citizens' rights, the reversals, have been breaking the back of police morale. There is virtually no foolproof way for police authority to obtain a confession that will not be challenged on the grounds it was irregularly obtained.

But one way that never has been tried might be worth trying if police authority is going up against a blank wall in every case that involves a confession.

Police authority could be given access to the service of a panel of electors of good repute who would serve voluntarily as witnesses to confessions. The electors thereafter could testify to the methods they had witnessed. If the methods were proper, this would have the effect of upholding some confessions that otherwise would be thrown out or surrouded with so much doubt that they were made valueless.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Kefauver committee is probing profits in tranquilizers. They are reported so soothing they relieve drug manufacturers of tensions and worries. One company is charged with sending doctors free recordings, with music on one side and a plug for sleeping pills on the other. (Kefauver is so disturbed by this he can't sleep a wink.)

Doctors have troubles enough without starting the hi-fi uncertain whether they will hear the Chipmunk Song or a sales pitch. The senator says one record has "Twelve Days of Christmas" on one side and a plug for reducing pills on the reverse.

No report so far of the use of "Oh what fun it is to ride in a one-hoss open sleigh" to promote a cough remedy. Or of a complexion pill on the other side of "Rudy, the Rednosed Reindeer."

Be this as it may, what's so wrong in a drug company including a little music with its advertising?

From Hollywood comes news that the movies are using commercials. In "Touch of Larceny" James Mason is shown hunting for a book called "The World of Suzie Wong." "Rat Race" has plugs for "The Pleasure of Your Company."

Maybe Hollywood thinks the public has become so used to commercials it thinks there is something wrong if it gets entertainment without them.

We are happy to report that the chariot race in "Ben-Hur" is not stopped in the stretch for a map of an antiacid pill going through a human torso, and that Messala doesn't appear after the finish and say, "Yes, it was those vitamin pills used by Ben-Hur that got him in first."

WE WENT TO SEE the new pix "Goliath" and immediately tried to lift two ushers with one hand and the entire popcorn stand with the other.

Nothing scares a steel executive more than an indication of government suport. "Ike told us where the green was and then played a different hole," complains one official.

Lundy Island, one mile wide and only three miles long, inhabited by a handful of people, is fighting the British government to keep immunity from taxes:

Oh to be on Lundy,

And the taxman AIN'T!

THE U.S. ATTORNEY GENERAL in mile long report to Ike on the radio and TV evils emphasizes "the impact of TV upon thinking and culture is immeasurable" but doesn't say a word about the endless parade of unnecessary violence over the airwaves. On the day the report was made there seemed to be more murders than ever.

Maybe it's not new but we just heard the story of two fishermen returning from the big catch. "Did you mark the spot?" asked one. "Yeah, I put a chalk mark on the left side of the rowboat," said the other. "But suppose we don't get the same boat next time?" was the reply.

Rod Serling, TV writer, ridicules sponsors for "ludicrous interference," and cites Uncle Sam in refusing cooperation "when characters in a story did not properly represent soldiers and sailors." What's so ludicrous: Should the government help TV programs which give distorted picture of servicemen? Serling also says sponsors reject some plays as "too grim." Nice work, say we, if they do.

Mrs. S. Z. Poli, dead at 91, was the widow of S. Z. Poli once New England's most famed vaudeville showman. She came to the United States with him as a girl, started wax works museum and saw it grow into a big vaudeville and movie chain. No old-time vaudeville folks will fail to recall S. Z. Poli, a giant of a man with offices over Tom Sullivan's Oneco Hotel, where countless performers stopped. He had color and rare ability and his wife was his constant helpmate.

LAUGH OF THE YEAR is TV network decision to abandon Friday night fights, because of the "low state of boxing," while continuing wrestling programs based on fakery, rehearsed routines and a mockery of sportsmanship.

Arthur Godfrey is to fly to Africa to hunt tigers. He has the kind of courage that enables a man to fly into a jungle, send the plane home and order the pilot, "Don't call me; I'll call you."

That Distracting New File Clerk

'Thinking Machine' Assists Union

By Victor Riesel

Out in Westbury, L. I., where the polo ponies cavort, there's a union which takes its advice from a thinking machine. When the local, made up of technicians for the Arma Co., wants to know what to demand in the next contract, its president trots over to a Univac, and shoves in a card which lists the employe's age, experience, schooling, skill, salary, job classification, previous raises and everything except his neuroses.

Victor Riesel

The thinking machine reports to the officers of Local 418, International Union of Electrical Workers, what it believes the new bargaining demands should be. It works from "memory" from data fed it regularly every six months. That's the future, buddy. It is labor beginning to match management's magic.

Among the spatial age's specialities now are automated Ford equipment which can turn out an engine block in 13 seconds; nominally priced color TV sets; a library of tapes which when "played back" actually produce a machine tool; a nine pound TV camera which can project through 1,000 miles of space and an electromagnetic headache for Dave Dubinsky's Ladies Garment Workers which sews labels at the rate of 1,800 stitches a minute.

What will happen to Bertha, the sewing machine girl and all the rest who are displaced by the control and thinking machines?

BEGINNING IN 1960, they will slowly drop out of the market and be replaced by technicians, three of whom are needed for every plant engineer.

At the present rate this country needs so many of these skilled men and women that we're falling behind by about 100,000 a year.

All this will begin to change the labor movement, its leaders and its philosophy, as the older workers are replaced by the "experts" if we have enough of them.

Meanwhile, what of the young and middle-aged workers now being challenged by the thinking machine?

For a preview of what's to come, here is the story of Mike Quill's Transport Workers Union working things out with Pan-American for the spatial decade of the '60s.

Last year, Jim Horst, vice president of the TWU in charge of its Aircraft Division, was informed that Pan - American planned to close its Pacific Division overhaul section at the San Francisco International Airport.

Pan-Am now could fly its new jet flashes over the North Pole to London. With the new speeds of the magic craft, Pan-Am could get its airships from London or from any other part of the world, to the East Coast more easily than it could have gotten its piston Planes to San Francisco from its Pacific routes.

STARTING FEB. 8, overhauling of the entire craft will be done in Miami. Engine and heavy service (such as replacing a hydraulic system) will be handled in New York. This means that 850 mechanics out of 1,100 would have to be laid off in San Francisco, which will become merely a line stop.

So Jim Horst and Pan-American labor relations executives negotiated the future of labor in the spatial age. A few weeks ago they came up with a new pact. All 1,100 mechanics will be offered new jobs.

The workers with the longest seniority records can choose to stay in the 250 available jobs on the West Coast.

This leaves 850 mechanics. They will all be offered jobs in New York and Miami. They will retain their seniority and will get similar pay and classifications of work in the Eastern airports.

The company will pay moving costs and all transportation for the worker and his family. They will receive 14 days' wages to assure no break in income. Those who stayed in San Francisco will be retrained for work at a routine "line" stop. Those who go East will get new training if needed.

Thus, as automation — in the form of a jet — replace the old machines Pan-Am was able to take advantage of spatial age savings. The union members will get new jobs and new training.

That will be 1960s answer to the thinking machine and the work rules problem which threw steel into crisis in ancient 1959.

The Johnson Way

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Lyndon Johnson, the tall Texan, acts toward the Senate liberals like a man waiting at his window with a shotgun for prowlers. He lets them come close and then shoots.

He likes to get it over with early. Two years in a row now, right at the beginning of a congressional session, the liberals started jostling Johnson, leader of the Senate Democrats. Both times he flattened them fast.

Last year they wanted to change a Senate rule to make it easier to smash Southern Democrats' filibusters against civil rights bills. This year they wanted to take away some of Johnson's free-wheeling authority.

In 1959 Senate liberals of both parties teamed up behind Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill) to get the rule changed. A fight over this could have lasted weeks and split Northern and Southern Democrats.

Douglas had hardly opened his mouth before Johnson moved in, took over, and proposed his own rule change which, while it required some concession from the Southerners, also pacified most Northerners by giving them a concession.

It called for a very slight change. The outnumbered liberals found out in a hurry it was all the majority of both parties would go for. The liberals were swamped in the 72-22 vote.

Unabashed by the clubbing they got, some of the liberals among Johnson's own Democrats began banging away at Johnson himself. This was particularly true of one newcomer, Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis).

Their complaint boiled down to this: That Johnson ran the Senate too much as a one-man show, that the other Democrats weren't consulted enough on what Senate Democrats should do, support, or oppose in policy and legislation.

This discontent with Johnson's leadership — although one complainant conceded the Texan was the ablest Democratic leader around in his lifetime — bubbled over when the Senate opened for business this year.

The liberals insisted, for instance, on more closed-door private meetings or caucuses among Democrats so all could have a voice in what was to be done on the open Senate floor.

No one in the Senate knows as well as Johnson the views of every senator of both parties on every issue and how he can be expected to vote. The reason he knows is that he works hard at finding out. He is a master of detail.

So Johnson pulled a surprise. He called a secret meeting right away. No wonder. There is no doubt he knew the majority of the Senate Democrats would line up on his side against the outspoken liberals, who are a small minority.

Sure enough — that's how it turned out. The Democrats met behind closed doors Tuesday and the liberals suffered a crushing defeat. The vote was 51-12 in support of Johnson's way of doing things.

In all this Johnson never got mad or raised his voice. But then, of course, knowing what Johnson knew, he didn't have to. He just let the liberals stumble around in his garden, creep up close, and then—bang.

Appeasement In Steel

By David Lawrence

Government's Role Limits Free Competition

To most people "inflation" or "monopoly" or "governmental intervention," as in a steel strike, are merely words that have little personal meaning to them. Yet what has just happened in the settlement of the steel strike will start another wave of price increases in most things the consumer will buy in the next few years. It's an open question how long it will take for the people to discover how they are being cheated by the gradual downard push in the purchasing power of the dollar.

David Lawrence

Two and a half years ago a prominent executive in the steel business was explaining what occurred in the 1956 steel strike. His was a reflective view, given at a time when there was no dispute going on. What he said, however, might have been spoken yesterday.

Joseph L. Block of Chicago is the executive whose prophesies have been borne out by contemporaneous events.

He has been in the steel business 37 years and is today head of the Inland Steel Co. — about eighth in the rank of large steel companies. Block gave his views in a copyrighted interview in "U.S. News & World Report" in June 1957.

Asked about the steel strike of 1956, he said "the industry had no choice when the final chips were down" but to settle after a costly strike of several weeks.

HE MENTIONED the "behind-the-scenes influences" of government as an important factor in the negotiations.

"Wasn't the administration urging the steel industry and unions not to raise wages and prices?" he was asked.

"Doesn't government always?" was the reply.

"But that's a paradox. I don't think it makes any difference if we have a Republican or a Democratic administration.

"They seem always to talk one way before the strike and another way during the strike. Before the strike, all the pressure is on, 'Don't put up wages and don't put up prices and think of the public,' and so on.

"Then when you have the strike all the pressure is on: 'Settle it and get it over with. Compromise. Get back to work.'"

"Give them a raise, in other words?" Mr. Block was asked.

"How else do you settle it?" he commented in reply.

Mr. Block was asked whether the steady rise in wage costs tends to entrench the existing companies in their companies in their position and to keep out new companies from competition. This was his answer:

"I think that's right and it is an interesting commentary because here you have government putting pressure on to hold down prices and so on, which is the very thing that stops new people from getting into business. Thus, government is, in a sense, fostering monopoly.

"Now, there are all kinds of circumstances. There is plenty of room for a specialty operator—I can think of a few, in stainless steel or some other specialty—but when you talk about an integrated carbon-steel producer making the popular products like sheets, structural shapes, plates and bars and so on, in large volume, it just can't be done from the ground up today.

"I do not think anyone would go into the steel business on a big scale and build, say, a million-ton plant. You have heard a lot of talk about it but you haven't seen it happen, because the economics do not justify it."

THUS DOES a well informed and experienced man in the steel business tell why just a few companies have what has sometimes been called an "oligopoly" in a single industry.

This situation tends to force smaller units into larger combinations. The government, of course, by the use of antitrust laws, frowns on certain mergers but it must accept much of the resposibility for encouraging those who remain in the upper ten in an industry to achieve virtually a monopoly status as a group.

This happens largely because the companies themselves do not fix wage costs. The unions, with complete power over all workers in an industry, fix the wage costs for all the companies at the same time.

A labor monopoly thereby fosters a monopolistic position for the companies. Hence, free competition is tending to vanish from the American economic system.

In Europe they favor legalized cartels or monopolies, though sometimes there is a crusade to nationalize an industry under government control.

What has evolved abroad is a partnership between government and special privilege groups and that's what's developing in this country subject only to the vehement protests that someday may be made at the polls by the voters as they come finally to realize they are being robbed of their savings through a devalued dollar.

$1½ Billion Oversight

By Robert E. Lee

Overpasses spanning roads in the new interstate highway system are so low that some types of guided missiles and other military items can't get through them.

The problem, which would cost an estimated 1½ billion dollars to correct, is expected to be a primary investigation target of a special House watchdog committee on the relation of the federal highway program to national defense. Hearings will open late this month if Democratic committee members have their way.

The 18-man group, headed by Rep. John A. Blatnik (D—Minn), is getting set to question Pentagon officials about the seemingly small but very real problem of overpass clearance and other aspects of the nation's new road program.

Specifically, Blatnik's committee is charged with looking into allegations of waste and generally improper use of federal funds on highways important to continental defense.

THE MOST DRAMATIC indication of a foulup somewhere along the line, according to some House Democrats, is the 14-foot vertical clearance of the interstate highway overpasses. More than 7,000 have been built since 1956.

Because they're not high enough, they block truck transportation of some models of Atlas intercontinental ballistic missiles, certain types of assembled radar and a whole catalogue of earth - moving and other construction equipment.

Democrats who have made preliminary investigations say the Defense Department has been negligent in providing for security needs by failing to spot the problem earlier. It was not until last Oct. 1 that the Army chief of transportation, speaking for the Pentagon as a whole at the request of the Army and Navy, asked for 17-foot clearance on the new highways.

Though Republican committee members are certain to try to block an inquiry, Democrats think they have some live ammunition to fire at the GOP administration's highway program, which already has become a well-used political football.

The Democrats declare, for example, that the Pentagon has been asked for two years if it had any requests to make of Congress in connection with renewal of highway funds and has made none.

ACTUALLY, several states already have provisions for 16-foot overpass clearance but the majority do not. Commerce Secretary Mueller has not yet acted on the request for 17 feet everywhere.

In its Oct. 1 letter the Defense Department didn't ask the Commerce Department, parent agency of the Bureau of Public Roads, to rebuild any of the more than 7,000 overpasses already completed. The cost of that presumably would be prohibitive.

But it is estimated that it would cost at least 1½ billion dollars to change the verticle minimum design standard from 14 to 17 feet—what with redesigning overpasses already laid down on paper, acquiring land for new approaches and other details that appear to be trivial but aren't.

The longer the delay in correcting the original oversight — if that's what it was—the higher the price when it is done.

AIR FORCE officials, meanwhile, deny that their missile program or any other activity for which they are responsible is hampered by the 14-foot clearance. Although the Atlas ICBM in some configurations requires clearance of 15 feet 9 inches, the Air Force says most missiles are transported by air in flying boxcars.

A spokesman reported: "We said we had no problems when the Army and Navy went to the Defense Department on the overpass business some time ago."

The Air Force maintains that shipments of Atlas, currently the biggest missile in production, are running smoothly to Cape Canaveral, Fla., Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., and the first Atlas operations unit at Cheyenne, Wyo.

But many Pentagon officials acknowledge genuine concern over the low overpasses. As one said: "There aren't many things we can't take anywhere on the roads today but don't know what the future requirements will be."

Each fire of 1959 offered a hard-learned lesson to someone, somewhere that there are no shortcuts to safety.

Confession Panel To Help Police

The U.S. Supreme Court has blown away whatever cloud of doubt still hung over criminal convictions obtained by confessions in which the defendants' rights were violated.

It will not uphold the convictions.

This ruling, made in a 1948 robber conviction struck down by the U.S. Supreme Court last Monday, is consistent with the trend of judicial rulings in recent years. Even confessions obtained in presumably legal ways have been challenged with a high rate of success.

Though it has been common for lawyers to view these reversals as triumphs for their profession in defending the citizens' rights, the reversals, have been breaking the back of police morale. There is virtually no foolproof way for police authority to obtain a confession that will not be challenged on the grounds it was irregularly obtained.

But one way that never has been tried might be worth trying if police authority is going up against a blank wall in every case that involves a confession.

Police authority could be given access to the service of a panel of electors of good repute who would serve voluntarily as witnesses to confessions. The electors thereafter could testify to the methods they had witnessed. If the methods were proper, this would have the effect of upholding some confessions that otherwise would be thrown out or surrouded with so much doubt that they were made valueless.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Kefauver committee is probing profits in tranquilizers. They are reported so soothing they relieve drug manufacturers of tensions and worries. One company is charged with sending doctors free recordings, with music on one side and a plug for sleeping pills on the other. (Kefauver is so disturbed by this he can't sleep a wink.)

Doctors have troubles enough without starting the hi-fi uncertain whether they will hear the Chipmunk Song or a sales pitch. The senator says one record has "Twelve Days of Christmas" on one side and a plug for reducing pills on the reverse.

No report so far of the use of "Oh what fun it is to ride in a one-hoss open sleigh" to promote a cough remedy. Or of a complexion pill on the other side of "Rudy, the Rednosed Reindeer."

Be this as it may, what's so wrong in a drug company including a little music with its advertising?

From Hollywood comes news that the movies are using commercials. In "Touch of Larceny" James Mason is shown hunting for a book called "The World of Suzie Wong." "Rat Race" has plugs for "The Pleasure of Your Company."

Maybe Hollywood thinks the public has become so used to commercials it thinks there is something wrong if it gets entertainment without them.

We are happy to report that the chariot race in "Ben-Hur" is not stopped in the stretch for a map of an antiacid pill going through a human torso, and that Messala doesn't appear after the finish and say, "Yes, it was those vitamin pills used by Ben-Hur that got him in first."

WE WENT TO SEE the new pix "Goliath" and immediately tried to lift two ushers with one hand and the entire popcorn stand with the other.

THE U.S. ATTORNEY GENERAL in mile long report to Ike on the radio and TV evils emphasizes "the impact of TV upon thinking and culture is immeasurable" but doesn't say a word about the endless parade of unnecessary violence over the airwaves. On the day the report was made there seemed to be more murders than ever.

Maybe it's not new but we just heard the story of two fishermen returning from the big catch. "Did you mark the spot?" asked one. "Yeah, I put a chalk mark on the left side of the rowboat," said the other. "But suppose we don't get the same boat next time?" was the reply.

Rod Serling, TV writer, ridicules sponsors for "ludicrous interference," and cites Uncle Sam in refusing cooperation "when characters in a story did not properly represent soldiers and sailors." What's so ludicrous: Should the government help TV programs which give distorted picture of servicemen? Serling also says sponsors reject some plays as "too grim." Nice work, say we, if they do.

Mrs. S. Z. Poli, dead at 91, was the widow of S. Z. Poli once New England's most famed vaudeville showman. She came to the United States with him as a girl, started wax works museum and saw it grow into a big vaudeville and movie chain. No old-time vaudeville folks will fail to recall S. Z. That Distracting New File Clerk

'Thinking Machine' Assists Union

By Victor Riesel

Out in Westbury, L. I., where the polo ponies cavort, there's a union which takes its advice from a thinking machine. When the local, made up of technicians for the Arma Co., wants to know what to demand in the next contract, its president trots over to a Univac, and shoves in a card which lists the employe's age, experience, schooling, skill, salary, job classification, previous raises and everything except his neuroses.

Victor Riesel

The thinking machine reports to the officers of Local 418, International Union of Electrical Workers, what it believes the new bargaining demands should be. It works from "memory" from data fed it regularly every six months. That's the future, buddy. It is labor beginning to match management's magic.

Among the spatial age's specialities now are automated Ford equipment which can turn out an engine block in 13 seconds; nominally priced color TV sets; a library of tapes which when "played back" actually produce a machine tool; a nine pound TV camera which can project through 1,000 miles of space and an electromagnetic headache for Dave Dubinsky's Ladies Garment Workers which sews labels at the rate of 1,800 stitches a minute.

What will happen to Bertha, the sewing machine girl and all the rest who are displaced by the control and thinking machines?

BEGINNING IN 1960, they will slowly drop out of the market and be replaced by technicians, three of whom are needed for every plant engineer.

At the present rate this country needs so many of these skilled men and women that we're falling behind by about 100,000 a year.

All this will begin to change the labor movement, its leaders and its philosophy, as the older workers are replaced by the "experts" if we have enough of them.

Meanwhile, what of the young and middle-aged workers now being challenged by the thinking machine?

For a preview of what's to come, here is the story of Mike Quill's Transport Workers Union working things out with Pan-American for the spatial decade of the '60s.

Last year, Jim Horst, vice president of the TWU in charge of its Aircraft Division, was informed that Pan - American planned to close its Pacific Division overhaul section at the San Francisco International Airport.

Pan-Am now could fly its new jet flashes over the North Pole to London. With the new speeds of the magic craft, Pan-Am could get its airships from London or from any other part of the world, to the East Coast more easily than it could have gotten its piston Planes to San Francisco from its Pacific routes.

STARTING FEB. 8, overhauling of the entire craft will be done in Miami. Engine and heavy service (such as replacing a hydraulic system) will be handled in New York. This means that 850 mechanics out of 1,100 would have to be laid off in San Francisco, which will become merely a line stop.

So Jim Horst and Pan-American labor relations executives negotiated the future of labor in the spatial age. A few weeks ago they came up with a new pact. All 1,100 mechanics will be offered new jobs.

The workers with the longest seniority records can choose to stay in the 250 available jobs on the West Coast.

This leaves 850 mechanics. They will all be offered jobs in New York and Miami. They will retain their seniority and will get similar pay and classifications of work in the Eastern airports.

The company will pay moving costs and all transportation for the worker and his family. They will receive 14 days' wages to assure no break in income. Those who stayed in San Francisco will be retrained for work at a routine "line" stop. Those who go East will get new training if needed.

Thus, as automation — in the form of a jet — replace the old machines Pan-Am was able to take advantage of spatial age savings. The union members will get new jobs and new training.

That will be 1960s answer to the thinking machine and the work rules problem which threw steel into crisis in ancient 1959.

The Johnson Way

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Lyndon Johnson, the tall Texan, acts toward the Senate liberals like a man waiting at his window with a shotgun for prowlers. He lets them come close and then shoots.

He likes to get it over with early. Two years in a row now, right at the beginning of a congressional session, the liberals started jostling Johnson, leader of the Senate Democrats. Both times he flattened them fast.

Last year they wanted to change a Senate rule to make it easier to smash Southern Democrats' filibusters against civil rights bills. This year they wanted to take away some of Johnson's free-wheeling authority.

In 1959 Senate liberals of both parties teamed up behind Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill) to get the rule changed. A fight over this could have lasted weeks and split Northern and Southern Democrats.

Douglas had hardly opened his mouth before Johnson moved in, took over, and proposed his own rule change which, while it required some concession from the Southerners, also pacified most Northerners by giving them a concession.

It called for a very slight change. The outnumbered liberals found out in a hurry it was all the majority of both parties would go for. The liberals were swamped in the 72-22 vote.

Unabashed by the clubbing they got, some of the liberals among Johnson's own Democrats began banging away at Johnson himself. This was particularly true of one newcomer, Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis).

Their complaint boiled down to this: That Johnson ran the Senate too much as a one-man show, that the other Democrats weren't consulted enough on what Senate Democrats should do, support, or oppose in policy and legislation.

This discontent with Johnson's leadership — although one complainant conceded the Texan was the ablest Democratic leader around in his lifetime — bubbled over when the Senate opened for business this year.

The liberals insisted, for instance, on more closed-door private meetings or caucuses among Democrats so all could have a voice in what was to be done on the open Senate floor.

No one in the Senate knows as well as Johnson the views of every senator of both parties on every issue and how he can be expected to vote. The reason he knows is that he works hard at finding out. He is a master of detail.

So Johnson pulled a surprise. He called a secret meeting right away. No wonder. There is no doubt he knew the majority of the Senate Democrats would line up on his side against the outspoken liberals, who are a small minority.

Sure enough — that's how it turned out. The Democrats met behind closed doors Tuesday and the liberals suffered a crushing defeat. The vote was 51-12 in support of Johnson's way of doing things.

In all this Johnson never got mad or raised his voice. But then, of course, knowing what Johnson knew, he didn't have to. He just let the liberals stumble around in his garden, creep up close, and then—bang.

Appeasement In Steel

By David Lawrence

Government's Role Limits Free Competition

To most people "inflation" or "monopoly" or "governmental intervention," as in a steel strike, are merely words that have little personal meaning to them. Yet what has just happened in the settlement of the steel strike will start another wave of price increases in most things the consumer will buy in the next few years. It's an open question how long it will take for the people to discover how they are being cheated by the gradual downard push in the purchasing power of the dollar.

David Lawrence

Two and a half years ago a prominent executive in the steel business was explaining what occurred in the 1956 steel strike. His was a reflective view, given at a time when there was no dispute going on. What he said, however, might have been spoken yesterday.

Joseph L. Block of Chicago is the executive whose prophesies have been borne out by contemporaneous events.

He has been in the steel business 37 years and is today head of the Inland Steel Co. — about eighth in the rank of large steel companies. Block gave his views in a copyrighted interview in "U.S. News & World Report" in June 1957.

Asked about the steel strike of 1956, he said "the industry had no choice when the final chips were down" but to settle after a costly strike of several weeks.

HE MENTIONED the "behind-the-scenes influences" of government as an important factor in the negotiations.

"Wasn't the administration urging the steel industry and unions not to raise wages and prices?" he was asked.

"Doesn't government always?" was the reply.

"But that's a paradox. I don't think it makes any difference if we have a Republican or a Democratic administration.

"They seem always to talk one way before the strike and another way during the strike. Before the strike, all the pressure is on, 'Don't put up wages and don't put up prices and think of the public,' and so on.

"Then when you have the strike all the pressure is on: 'Settle it and get it over with. Compromise. Get back to work.' "

"Give them a raise, in other words?" Mr. Block was asked.

"How else do you settle it?" he commented in reply.

Mr. Block was asked whether the steady rise in wage costs tends to entrench the existing companies in their companies in their position and to keep out new companies from competition. This was his answer:

"I think that's right and it is an interesting commentary because here you have government putting pressure on to hold down prices and so on, which is the very thing that stops new people from getting into business. Thus, government is, in a sense, fostering monopoly.

"Now, there are all kinds of circumstances. There is plenty of room for a specialty operator—I can think of a few, in stainless steel or some other specialty—but when you talk about an integrated carbon-steel producer making the popular products like sheets, structural shapes, plates and bars and so on, in large volume, it just can't be done from the ground up today.

"I do not think anyone would go into the steel business on a big scale and build, say, a million-ton plant. You have heard a lot of talk about it but you haven't seen it happen, because the economics do not justify it."

THUS DOES a well informed and experienced man in the steel business tell why just a few companies have what has sometimes been called an "oligopoly" in a single industry.

This situation tends to force smaller units into larger combinations. The government, of course, by the use of antitrust laws, frowns on certain mergers but it must accept much of the resposibility for encouraging those who remain in the upper ten in an industry to achieve virtually a monopoly status as a group.

This happens largely because the companies themselves do not fix wage costs. The unions, with complete power over all workers in an industry, fix the wage costs for all the companies at the same time.

A labor monopoly thereby fosters a monopolistic position for the companies. Hence, free competition is tending to vanish from the American economic system.

In Europe they favor legalized cartels or monopolies, though sometimes there is a crusade to nationalize an industry under government control.

What has evolved abroad is a partnership between government and special privilege groups and that's what's developing in this country subject only to the vehement protests that someday may be made at the polls by the voters as they come finally to realize they are being robbed of their savings through a devalued dollar.

$1½ Billion Oversight

By Robert E. Lee

Overpasses spanning roads in the new interstate highway system are so low that some types of guided missiles and other military items can't get through them.

The problem, which would cost an estimated 1½ billion dollars to correct, is expected to be a primary investigation target of a special House watchdog committee on the relation of the federal highway program to national defense. Hearings will open late this month if Democratic committee members have their way.

The 18-man group, headed by Rep. John A. Blatnik (D—Minn), is getting set to question Pentagon officials about the seemingly small but very real problem of overpass clearance and other aspects of the nation's new road program.

Specifically, Blatnik's committee is charged with looking into allegations of waste and generally improper use of federal funds on highways important to continental defense.

THE MOST DRAMATIC indication of a foulup somewhere along the line, according to some House Democrats, is the 14-foot vertical clearance of the interstate highway overpasses. More than 7,000 have been built since 1956.

Because they're not high enough, they block truck transportation of some models of Atlas intercontinental ballistic missiles, certain types of assembled radar and a whole catalogue of earth - moving and other construction equipment.

Democrats who have made preliminary investigations say the Defense Department has been negligent in providing for security needs by failing to spot the problem earlier. It was not until last Oct. 1 that the Army chief of transportation, speaking for the Pentagon as a whole at the request of the Army and Navy, asked for 17-foot clearance on the new highways.

Though Republican committee members are certain to try to block an inquiry, Democrats think they have some live ammunition to fire at the GOP administration's highway program, which already has become a well-used political football.

The Democrats declare, for example, that the Pentagon has been asked for two years if it had any requests to make of Congress in connection with renewal of highway funds and has made none.

ACTUALLY, several states already have provisions for 16-foot overpass clearance but the majority do not. Commerce Secretary Mueller has not yet acted on the request for 17 feet everywhere.

In its Oct. 1 letter the Defense Department didn't ask the Commerce Department, parent agency of the Bureau of Public Roads, to rebuild any of the more than 7,000 overpasses already completed. The cost of that presumably would be prohibitive.

But it is estimated that it would cost at least 1½ billion dollars to change the verticle minimum design standard from 14 to 17 feet—what with redesigning overpasses already laid down on paper, acquiring land for new approaches and other details that appear to be trivial but aren't.

The longer the delay in correcting the original oversight — if that's what it was—the higher the price when it is done.

AIR FORCE officials, meanwhile, deny that their missile program or any other activity for which they are responsible is hampered by the 14-foot clearance. Although the Atlas ICBM in some configurations requires clearance of 15 feet 9 inches, the Air Force says most missiles are transported by air in flying boxcars.

A spokesman reported: "We said we had no problems when the Army and Navy went to the Defense Department on the overpass business some time ago."

The Air Force maintains that shipments of Atlas, currently the biggest missile in production, are running smoothly to Cape Canaveral, Fla., Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., and the first Atlas operations unit at Cheyenne, Wyo.

But many Pentagon officials acknowledge genuine concern over the low overpasses. As one said: "There aren't many things we can't take anywhere on the roads today but don't know what the future requirements will be."

been identified. The Q stands for question mark.

Columbus, Ohio, druggists reported a thriving pill business as many residents walked about sneezing and coughing with bad colds or more serious infections.

Dr. Joseph G. Milner, the Detroit health commissioner, said the flu has hit the Detroit area in serious proportions. His department is conducting a series of tests to determine the type, potency, and prevalence of the influenza.

Differing with Secretary Fleming's statement, the Ohio Health Department reported no statewide flu epidemic. Its records, however, usually are 10 days behind actual cases. They probably do not reflect, for example, the situation at the Marion, Ohio, General Hospital, crowded beyond capacity Tuesday because of influenza.

decision at once, but we ask you to look at the site and I think you'll agree with me," Copenhaver said. He said the overall completed cost of the building in Bloomfield might be $16,000 to $18,000, which would include an access road to the structure, drilling a well for a water supply and installing a septic tank to dispose of sewage. The site is well beyond city water and sewer lines, he explained.

When the dump site is filled in 10 to 12 years and incinerator department operations shift to another spot, the garage building still would be located in Bloomfield, which might be inconvenient, Copenhaver added.

There was no decision on the method the city might follow to alter the building plans and designate a new site for its erection—all complicated by the fact Boyd Lumber holds a general contract awarded by the former administration.

In the discussion, it developed that the city might ask Boyd to sign a supplemental agreement accepting the change in site and Council might enact new legislation designating the lot at E. 2nd and Washington instead of the landfill dump.

But in order to erect a larger building, it might be necessary to enact new legislation authorizing the administration to call for bids for a separate addition to the basic structure which Boyd would erect.

During the discussion, Mayor Goodballet commented that "no retiring administration has a moral right to tie up a new administration with contracts and obligations that cannot be fulfilled by the end of its (the retiring administration's) term."

"I wouldn't be a party to that," Goodballet added. "It's a case of an outgoing administration imposing obligations on a new administration. I feel this administration and Council have a right to voice their opinions on whether this building would be a good deal for the city and determine if they can get a better deal."

He also pointed out the city would be able to abandon the old street department barn and the rented structures in East End if it had a central garage and storage building.

"If we can find our way clear legally, I feel we should proceed," he commented.

Flu

been identified. The Q stands for question mark.

Columbus, Ohio, druggists reported a thriving pill business as many residents walked about sneezing and coughing with bad colds or more serious infections.

Dr. Joseph G. Milner, the Detroit health commissioner, said the flu has hit the Detroit area in serious proportions. His department is conducting a series of tests to determine the type, potency, and prevalence of the influenza.

Differing with Secretary Flemming's statement, the Ohio Health Department reported no statewide flu epidemic. Its records, however, usually are 10 days behind actual cases. They probably do not reflect, for example, the situation at the Marion, Ohio, General Hospital, crowded beyond capacity Tuesday because of influenza.

Retired Builder Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Raymond A. Mercier, 79, a retired Detroit builder, died Monday after a long illness. His construction firm built the University of Michigan stadium and the Detroit-Windsor tunnel.

Garage

decision at once, but we ask you to look at the site and I think you'll agree with me," Copenhaver said. He said the overall completed cost of the building in Bloomfield might be $16,000 to $18,000, which would include an access road to the structure, drilling a well for a water supply and installing a septic tank to dispose of sewage. The site is well beyond city water and sewer lines, he explained.

When the dump site is filled in 10 to 12 years and incinerator department operations shift to another spot, the garage building still would be located in Bloomfield, which might be inconvenient, Copenhaver added.

There was no decision on the method the city might follow to alter the building plans and designate a new site for its erection—all complicated by the fact Boyd Lumber holds a general contract awarded by the former administration.

In the discussion, it developed that the city might ask Boyd to sign a supplemental agreement accepting the change in site and Council might enact new legislation designating the lot at E. 2nd and Washington instead of the landfill dump.

But in order to erect a larger building, it might be necessary to enact new legislation authorizing the administration to call for bids for a separate addition to the basic structure which Boyd would erect.

During the discussion, Mayor Goodballet commented that "no retiring administration has a moral right to tie up a new administration with contracts and obligations that cannot be fulfilled by the end of its (the retiring administration's) term."

"I wouldn't be a party to that," Goodballet added. "It's a case of an outgoing administration imposing obligations on a new administration. I feel this administration and Council have a right to voice their opinions on whether this building would be a good deal for the city and determine if they can get a better deal."

He also pointed out the city would be able to abandon the old street department barn and the rented structures in East End if it had a central garage and storage building.

"If we can find our way clear legally, I feel we should proceed," he commented.

Salineville Postmaster Receives Nomination

Clarence J. Loch, acting postmaster at Salineville, is listed among nominations for postmaster appointments sent by President Dwight Eisenhower to the Senate for confirmation.

Loch has been acting postmaster for five years, succeeding M. M. Mulheran. His nomination by the president was announced previously.

Lawyers Reprimanded

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Several attorneys here have received letters from the Ohio Bar Assn.'s committee on professional conduct and legal ethics reprimanding them because their signatures appeared on an advertisement endorsing the successful candidacy of Frank R. Franko for Mayor. Franko, a former municipal judge, was disbarred and was removed from the bench by the Ohio Supreme Court.

As part of the reorganization, Edwards announced appointment of a five-member executive committee. It is comprised of Babb, Robert E. Boyce, C. Walter Ashbaugh and Atty. Lang, both past presidents, and Vodrey.

The board received the year-end financial report and approved the budget for 1960.

License Loss Due Speeders

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff said today he has uncovered a decision of the Ohio Supreme Court that permits him to suspend the driver's licenses of persons found guilty in aggravated cases of speeding.

The judge said as a result speeding has been added to the list of traffic violations for which a motorist may lose temporarily his right to drive. The others are reckless driving, driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident.

Judge Chertoff said his authority to suspend a driver's permit for speeding is contained in a decision of the State Supreme Court when it upheld a 30-day suspension of a license decreed by an Akron court. The motorist appealed after he was fined $10 and costs and given a license suspension for driving 70 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone, the judge said.

The state's highest court upheld the lower court, holding that reckless driving is one of the violations for which a license may be suspended and that a speed of 70 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone constitutes reckless driving within the meaning of the Ohio law, Judge Chertoff said.

The judge indicated that he intends to order license suspensions for speeders only in aggravated cases, not in instances where the defendant is accused of exceeding the speed limit by a moderate amount without jeapordizing the life or property of others.

. . . no longer feared because of health threats that come with raw and chilly months. Not too many years ago pneumonia, for instance, claimed one out of every three victims.

U.S. Heiress, Boy Friend Hide In Paris

PARIS (AP)—American heiress Gamble Benedict and her Romanian-born boy friend Andre Porumbeanu hid out today in the apartment of a Paris lawyer.

Two husky photographers — working for a Paris agency which purchased exclusive rights to the couple's runaway love story — guarded the door and the lawyer, Jean Cosacesco, flitted in and out.

"I can't say anything now," said Cosacesco, adding: "They definitely are not here."

Despite his denial, they were reported to have slipped into the apartment early this morning with two leather traveling bags and a smaller valise.

Tuesday night they were reported to have stayed at a small hotel.

He is married to the former Dorothy Huth of Sebring and they have four sons.

R. T. Mason To Run For County Recorder

LISBON — Richard T. (Dick) Mason announced today he will be a candidate for county recorder in the Republican Primary May 3.

Mason, a lifelong resident of Lisbon, is active in several service organizations in Columbiana County and is a member of New Lisbon Masonic Lodge 65 and a 32second Degree Mason in the Scottish Rite at Steubenville.

He is married, the father of two children and is making his first attempt for a county office. He has 35 years experience as an executive with the former R. Thomas & Sons, now the H. K. Porter Co.

Toronto Lawyer Bids For Representative

TORONTO — Atty. Michael Blischak has announced he will seek the Democratic nomination for state representative from Jefferson County in the May 3 primary.

defense effort is displaying partisanship. Bristling, Eisenhower asked Mrs. McClendon whether she was making a speech or asking a question.

She replied she was putting a question, and repeated in substance what she had said a moment earlier.

Eisenhower shot back that he resented any implication the defense program was being run on a partisan basis. In the first place, he said, he does not have to be partisan. Secondly, he said, he has devoted his entire life to defense without partisanship.

The President said further he believes the program is being handled well, and that he believes he knows more about defense than anyone else in this country.

Eisenhower also spoke out in defense of his decision to curtail drastically the B70 bomber construction program. In reply to a question, the President said there actually is enough money in the defense budget to continue that program.

But such bombers, he commented, take a long time to produce and in the meantime there are other vital defense needs which must be met.

U.S. SECURITY — Eisenhower firmly rejected any idea that he will be dealing from any position of inferiority when he and Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev meet at the East-West summit conference in Paris next May.

A reporter told the President there have been suggestions that Eisenhower would be at a disadvantage because of Russia's lead over the United States in the missile field.

Eisenhower said that implied that he would meet and deal with Khrushchev from a position of inferiority—and that he would be frightened of the Soviet leader.

Eisenhower said emphatically that he certainly is not frightened. He added that he is not in the slightest degree disturbed.

Jap Premier Due Guard

TOKYO (AP)—An extra heavy security guard will surround Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi Saturday when he leaves for the United States to sign a new security pact bitterly opposed by Japanese leftists. The extreme leftwing National Students Federation, Zengakuren, threatened to stop Kishi's departure by force. Authorities tentatively assigned 2,000 policemen to protect his departure from demonstrators at Tokyo's International Airport.

Wellsville Kiwanis Club Sets Up Scholarship Fund

A scholarship fund, designed to aid deserving students in furthering their education, has been set up by the Wellsville Kiwanis Club.

Plans for the program were initiated last year. To date, the fund contains $400 with more donations promised. Two $100 donations have been received anonymously and the money was matched by the club.

The fund will be presented as a loan to worthy applicants. If the money is returned soon after the candidate finds employment, no interest will be charged. If not, a low interest rate will be assessed.

Some of the requirements are a desire on the part of an applicant to further his education and evidence that the candidate is financially unable to complete his or her education.

The applicant must have been a resident of the Wellsville school area for a period of two years or more. A high school graduate will be preferred but graduation is not a requirement. There are no restrictions as to sex, religion or race. Any exceptions to the rules will require the approval of the Board of Directors.

The board will begin accepting applications immediately. The club hopes to keep building up the fund so more students can be helped.

Plans and activities for the coming year and committee reports were heard at a meeting of the club Tuesday night at Piatt's Tea Room. Charles Wilfing, second vice president, directed the discussion.

Twenty-two were present, including five Key Club members. Plans also were outlined for a basketball game between faculty members of Wellsville and East Liverpool High Schools. The game will be held Jan. 21 at 8 p. m. at Beacom Memorial gymnasium. Members of the two Key Clubs will play the preliminary game.

The game is being co-sponsored by the club and the Key Club. Tom Grafton, finance chairman, is in charge. Don Lowe, high school faculty manager, is making arrangements with the school.

60 Attend Kiwanis Club Installation With Wives Guests

About 60 attended the annual Kiwanis Club installation Tuesday night at the Country Club at which wives were guests.

G. V. Weinstock of Lisbon, lieutenant governor, installed the officers, including William Porter, president; H. Judson English, first vice president, and Paul Blair, second vice president.

Rowland Kaufman, retiring president, reported on the club activities for 1959, and was presented a past president's pin by Charles Schell, past lieutenant governor.

Mostoller directed group singing and gave the invocation. A musical program was presented by the East Liverpool Chapter of the Sweet Adelines and a quartet, the Barber Curls, from the chapter. Glenn Woods was director.

Board To Ask Ballot Offers

The Election Board expects to issue a call Monday to job printers for bids on furnishing ballots for the May 3 primary elections, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said today.

The bids will be received until 2 p. m. Feb. 8 and the board will meet at 8 that night to award a contract, O'Hanlon said. At the meeting Feb. 8, the board also will pass on the sufficiency of petitions for ballot places filed by candidates before the deadline Feb. 3.

The printers will be asked to file offers on furnishing ballots for delegates and alternates to the Democratic and Republican national conventions and for the nomination for state, district and county offices, O'Hanlon pointed out.

Because of the large number of candidates for delegates and alternates to the national conventions, the ballots will be huge, O'Hanlon explained. The Democratic ballot may be five columns wide and the GOP ticket probably will be spread across four columns, he said. Under party rules, Democrats elect a larger number of convention delegates and alternates in Ohio than the Republicans.

But only a few state offices will be at stake, as most Ohio officials now are serving 4-year terms that run until 1962. Ohio will elect only a state auditor and two or three State Supreme Court judges.

Crossing Guard And Meter Maid Vacancies Filled

A new "Meter Maid" was appointed Tuesday by Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver, who also filled a vacancy in the city's force of adult school crossing guards.

Mrs. Virginia Chambers of McKee St. was appointed a "Meter Maid" to replace Mrs. Margaret McIntosh of the River Rd., who resigned in December. She took the oath of office yesterday from Atty. Paul Tobin and was scheduled to report for duty today.

Mrs. Chambers' application for one of the parking meter attendant's posts had been on file for two years, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet said. Her appointment returns the "Meter Maid" force to its authorized number of four.

The mayor said a study of the city ordinances also shows that the administration has the power to appoint two additional "Meter Maids" to serve when the regulars are ill, on vacation or otherwise unavailable. He said the administration is considering appointing the two "extras."

Meanwhile, Roy Watson of W. 8th St. was named crossing guard at Westgate School, a post he formerly held two years ago. Watson succeeds Mrs. Nanetta Buchanan of Lincoln Ave., who resigned.

Mayor Eases Parking Rules In First Ward

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet, in one of his first official acts when returning to his office Tuesday after a week-long illness, instucted the street department to remove "no parking" signs erected about a year ago on the full length of the north side of Pennsylvania Ave. between Mulberry St. and Elizabeth St.

The mayor said his investigation disclosed no ordinance ever had been enacted to back up the parking ban and that the rule apparently never had been enforced. The signs evidently were erected as a result of an agreement the city made with the State Highway Department several years ago in connection with resurfacing of Pennsylvania Ave. as a joint city-state project, the mayor added.

"It seemed foolish to have that whole wide stretch of street and not allow parking on it," he asserted.

The mayor said signs reading "No Parking At Any Time" were in place along the full length of the north side of East End's main thoroughfare. The curbs also were painted yellow, he said.

Mayor Goodballet said the new administration intends to confer with Police Chief Americo Radeschi on "a lot of other traffic conditions."

"He has some ideas he wants to put into effect on parking and traffic and we've already discussed some of them with him," the mayor added.

The mayor was in his office more than five hours late yesterday morning and throughout the afternoon — his first full business day at his desk since assuming office. Then he returned to City Hall for a conference with Council last night. Taken ill Jan. 3, he was hospitalized Jan. 4 with flu and bronchial congestion. He was released from the hospital Sunday.

Wellsville Kiwanis Club Sets Up Scholarship Fund

A scholarship fund, designed to aid deserving students in furthering their education, has been set up by the Wellsville Kiwanis Club.

Plans for the program were initiated last year. To date, the fund contains $400 with more donations promised. Two $100 donations have been received anonymously and the money was matched by the club.

The fund will be presented as a loan to worthy applicants. If the money is returned soon after the candidate finds employment, no interest will be charged. If not, a low interest rate will be assessed.

Some of the requirements are a desire on the part of an applicant to further his education and evidence that the candidate is financially unable to complete his or her education.

The applicant must have been a resident of the Wellsville school area for a period of two years or more. A high school graduate will be preferred but graduation is not a requirement. There are no restrictions as to sex, religion or race. Any exceptions to the rules will require the approval of the Board of Directors.

The board will begin accepting applications immediately. The club hopes to keep building up the fund so more students can be helped.

Plans and activities for the coming year and committee reports were heard at a meeting of the club Tuesday night at Piatt's Tea Room. Charles Wilfing, second vice president, directed the discussion.

Twenty-two were present, including five Key Club members. Plans also were outlined for a basketball game between faculty members of Wellsville and East Liverpool High Schools. The game will be held Jan. 21 at 8 p. m. at Beacom Memorial gymnasium. Members of the two Key Clubs will play the preliminary game.

The game is being co-sponsored by the club and the Key Club. Tom Grafton, finance chairman, is in charge. Don Lowe, high school faculty manager, is making arrangements with the school.

60 Attend Kiwanis Club Installation With Wives Guests

About 60 attended the annual Kiwanis Club installation Tuesday night at the Country Club at which wives were guests.

G. V. Weinstock of Lisbon, lieutenant governor, installed the officers, including William Porter, president; H. Judson English, first vice president, and Paul Blair, second vice president.

Rowland Kaufman, retiring president, reported on the club activities for 1959, and was presented a past president's pin by Charles Schell, past lieutenant governor.

Mostoller directed group singing and gave the invocation. A musical program was presented by the East Liverpool Chapter of the Sweet Adelines and a quartet, the Barber Curls, from the chapter. Glenn Woods was director.

Board To Ask Ballot Offers

The Election Board expects to issue a call Monday to job printers for bids on furnishing ballots for the May 3 primary elections, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said today.

The bids will be received until 2 p. m. Feb. 8 and the board will meet at 8 that night to award a contract, O'Hanlon said. At the meeting Feb. 8, the board also will pass on the sufficiency of petitions for ballot places filed by candidates before the deadline Feb. 3.

The printers will be asked to file offers on furnishing ballots for delegates and alternates to the Democratic and Republican national conventions and for the nomination for state, district and county offices, O'Hanlon pointed out.

Because of the large number of candidates for delegates and alternates to the national conventions, the ballots will be huge, O'Hanlon explained. The Democratic ballot may be five columns wide and the GOP ticket probably will be spread across four columns, he said. Under party rules, Democrats elect a larger number of convention delegates and alternates in Ohio than the Republicans.

But only a few state offices will be at stake, as most Ohio officials now are serving 4-year terms that run until 1962. Ohio will elect only a state auditor and two or three State Supreme Court judges.

Crossing Guard And Meter Maid Vacancies Filled

A new "Meter Maid" was appointed Tuesday by Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver, who also filled a vacancy in the city's force of adult school crossing guards.

Mrs. Virginia Chambers of McKee St. was appointed a "Meter Maid" to replace Mrs. Margaret McIntosh of the River Rd., who resigned in December. She took the oath of office yesterday from Atty. Paul Tobin and was scheduled to report for duty today.

Mrs. Chambers' application for one of the parking meter attendant's posts had been on file for two years, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet said. Her appointment returns the "Meter Maid" force to its authorized number of four.

The mayor said a study of the city ordinances also shows that the administration has the power to appoint two additional "Meter Maids" to serve when the regulars are ill, on vacation or otherwise unavailable. He said the administration is considering appointing the two "extras."

Meanwhile, Roy Watson of W. 8th St. was named crossing guard at Westgate School, a post he formerly held two years ago. Watson succeeds Mrs. Nanetta Buchanan of Lincoln Ave., who resigned.

A Gardendale woman, injured in a fall, was admitted Tuesday to City Hospital where a man and two youths were treated following separate mishaps.

Howard Snyder, 29, of 295 Haywood St., an employe of the American Vitrified Products Co., was treated for a laceration of the thumb suffered on a machine at work.

James Dingess, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs .C. M. Dingess of Newell Heights, received a laceration of a finger of the right hand on tine.

More Details In Last Weeks Of Mrs. Finch's Life Are Due

LOS ANGELES, (AP) — The young schoolteacher Barbara Jean Finch turned to "when she was afraid and needed a place to stay" tells more today of the last weeks of Mrs. Finch's life.

Pretty Marca Helfrich, 24, already has testified Mrs. Finch feared her husband, Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 42.

The wealthy physician and his mistress, Carole Tregoff, 23, are on trial on charges of murder and conspiracy. Mrs. Finch was shot to death July 18.

Mrs. Helfrich told the jury Tuesday that Mrs. Finch stayed with her twice "because he (the doctor) had beaten her up."

The slain woman's attorney testified earlier that twice—in May and June—Mrs. Finch told him she had been pistol-whipped by Finch and that he had threatened to kill her.

Attorney Joseph T. Forno said an investigator in his office sometimes acted as Mrs. Finch's bodyguard.

Mrs. Helfrich fled the courtroom, on the verge of tears, after photographers sought to take her picture.

Later she paused briefly to explain to newsmen that she met Mrs. Finch socially at a Palm Springs tennis club about a year before the killing.

Mrs. Helfrich was a witness for the prosecution.

Senator Reveals Movement To Separate Judicial Areas

WELLSBURG — Sen. Herbert Traubert (D-Brooke), third ranking in the West Virginia Senate, said today that a movement has developed to establish a separate Hancock County-Brooke County judicial district.

Hancock, Brooke and Ohio Counties now comprise the 1st Judicial Circuit served by Judge J. Harold Brennan and Judge J. J. P. O'Brien.

At the last session of the State Legislature, a bill to form a separate district of Hancock County passed the house but died in a senate committee.

Sen. Traubert then opposed the separate Hancock plan but said today he believes "the combined Hancock - Brooke plan would be feasible."

"I object to a separate Hancock district just as I would object to a separate Brooke district. However, if a division is to be made in the 1st Judicial District, the Hancock - Brooke plan is the proper solution," he added.

Sen. Traubert said attorneys from both Hancock and Brooke have contacted him in the last few days in favor of the two-county plan. "Whether we can get such a bill before the present legislature constitutes a legal question, I don't know," he continued.

"The governor has not included it in his proclamation but the door might have been left open when he included the Putnam - Mason County Judicial District in his call," Sen. Traubert said. He added, "that's as far as the matter has proceeded."

Woman Wrecks En Route To Get Her Stolen Auto

A Cuyahoga Falls woman who came to Wellsville to recover her car which was stolen was involved in a collision with a truck Tuesday at 11:55 a. m. at 3rd and Main Sts., Wellsville.

Meanwhile, police said Warren authorities have picked up a 19-year-old Bristolville youth and two juvenile companions who drove another stolen car to Wellsville from Warren Monday night.

A car driven by Mrs. Florence Miller of Cuyahoga Falls and a tractor-trailer truck driven by William R. Weikart of Washingtonville collided at 3rd and Main when the woman cut in front of the truck, police said. The street makes a 90 degree turn at this point and Mrs. Miller went straight through the turn, heading south of 3rd toward Riverside Ave.

She was in Wellsville in another car to recover her car which was stolen Monday by three girls and two boys from the Summit County Children's Home at Akron. The teenagers abandoned her car and stole another owned by Ernest C. Mick, 1718 Clark Ave., from in front of his home. They were apprehended at 1:30 a. m. Tuesday morning in Mick's car at Carrollton.

Ronald Lewis Keller, 19, of Bristolville and two juveniles were turned over to Warren authorities yesterday afternoon. They were apprehended Monday midnight. One of the juveniles was spotted loitering on Riverside Ave. When questioned, he implicated the other two and confessed to having stolen a car.

Defers Sentence

CINCINNATI (AP)—Faced with a possible jail term, a Cincinnati widow asked Judge Gilbert Bettman: "May I bring my own towels and sheets?" The judge deferred sentence for Mrs. H. Frederick Schaefer, 78, until next Tuesday after convicting her on a charge of failure to yield her driving license. The state says an exam by an eye doctor indicates her eyesight is so poor she is unfit to drive.

Fireman's Training Of Help In Aiding Man

A Newell volunteer fireman's training for emergency situations was used to aid a Grant St. man who became seriously ill Tuesday afternoon.

Gene Lytton used mouth-to-mouth artificial respiration to revive Orell Johnson, 521 Grant St., after he developed a respiratory ailment yesterday afternoon at 3:30.

Lytton recently received training in the new respiration method. Firemen secured a tank of oxygen for the stricken man after receiving a call for aid.

Discounts Epidemic

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—There is no evidence of a statewide flu epidemic, the Health Department reported Tuesday. A spokesman said only 73 new cases have been tallied from the latest reports. The records take about 10 days to receive and process, so future reports may show a change, the spokesman commented.

Wellsville Churches To Open Leadership School March 11

Nine representatives of six churches of Wellsville met Monday night in the Central Methodist Church as a Planning Council for the 1960 Christian Life and Leadership School, initiated by the Wellsville Ministerial Association.

The group decided to sponsor an accredited school under the plans and standards developed by the leaders of 40 denominations through the National Council of Churches.

The school will meet at 7:30 p. m. for five consecutive Fridays during Lent, beginning with March 11. The place will be announced later. Various courses will be offered to develop an adequate leadership for responsible work in the churches, sponsors said.

The Rev. Bruce Davis, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, was named supervisor. A dean will be named later.

Present at the meeting were Mrs. William Betteridge of the Yellow Creek Presbyterian Church, Mrs. Walter Hermand and Mrs. Fred Rodgers of the Central Methodist, Jim Means, First Evangelical United Brethren; Mrs. William McKenzie and Mrs. Philip Corsello, Highlandtown Methodist; John Rockhold, First Christian, and Rev. Davis. The Rev. Arden Mercier of the First EUB Church moderated on behalf of the association.

Other representatives, but who were unable to be present, include Ted Allison of the Church of the Nazarene, William Barker of the Second Presbyterian, Mrs. Ed Pugh of the Riverside United Presbyterian, and William Bush of the First Methodist. Other representatives will be named from the Bethel, Oak Ridge and Lee's Chapel congregations.

More Details In Last Weeks Of Mrs. Finch's Life Are Due

LOS ANGELES, (AP) — The young schoolteacher Barbara Jean Finch turned to "when she was afraid and needed a place to stay" tells more today of the last weeks of Mrs. Finch's life.

Pretty Marca Helfrich, 24, already has testified Mrs. Finch feared her husband, Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 42.

The wealthy physician and his mistress, Carole Tregoff, 23, are on trial on charges of murder and conspiracy. Mrs. Finch was shot to death July 18.

Mrs. Helfrich told the jury Tuesday that Mrs. Finch stayed with her twice "because he (the doctor) had beaten her up."

The slain woman's attorney testified earlier that twice—in May and June—Mrs. Finch told him she had been pistol-whipped by Finch and that he had threatened to kill her.

Attorney Joseph T. Forno said an investigator in his office sometimes acted as Mrs. Finch's bodyguard.

Mrs. Helfrich fled the courtroom, on the verge of tears, after photographers sought to take her picture.

Later she paused briefly to explain to newsmen that she met Mrs. Finch socially at a Palm Springs tennis club about a year before the killing.

Mrs. Helfrich was a witness for the prosecution.

Senator Reveals Movement To Separate Judicial Areas

WELLSBURG — Sen. Herbert Traubert (D-Brooke), third ranking in the West Virginia Senate, said today that a movement has developed to establish a separate Hancock County-Brooke County judicial district.

Hancock, Brooke and Ohio Counties now comprise the 1st Judicial Circuit served by Judge J. Harold Brennan and Judge J. J. P. O'Brien.

At the last session of the State Legislature, a bill to form a separate district of Hancock County passed the house but died in a senate committee.

Sen. Traubert then opposed the separate Hancock plan but said today he believes "the combined Hancock - Brooke plan would be feasible."

"I object to a separate Hancock district just as I would object to a separate Brooke district. However, if a division is to be made in the 1st Judicial District, the Hancock - Brooke plan is the proper solution," he added.

Sen. Traubert said attorneys from both Hancock and Brooke have contacted him in the last few days in favor of the two-county plan. "Whether we can get such a bill before the present legislature constitutes a legal question, I don't know," he continued.

"The governor has not included it in his proclamation but the door might have been left open when he included the Putnam - Mason County Judicial District in his call," Sen. Traubert said. He added, "that's as far as the matter has proceeded."

Atty. Conklin Again Heads Hancock Bar

He was given his second two-year term when the association convened Tuesday afternoon in the County Courthouse in New Cumberland before the Grand Jury session Tuesday.

Other officers and the Board of Directors were also re-elected.

Returned were Atty. Arthur J. Recht of Weirton, vice president; Atty. Donald R. Donell of Weirton, secretary, and Atty. Morton Rosenshine of Weirton, treasurer.

Other members of the board besides the officers are Atty. A. J. Rosenshine, Atty. Vito H. Catenaro and Atty. Floyd R. Tarr all of Weirton.

The association has endorsed Judge J. Harold Brennan and Judge J. J. P. O'Brien who filed this week as candidates for the May 10 primary. The jurists serve the 1st Judicial District.

Woman Suffers Injuries In Fall

A Gardendale woman, injured in a fall, was admitted Tuesday to City Hospital where a man and two youths were treated following separate mishaps.

Miss Edna Garnes, 1926 Allison St., is in "fair" condition today with head and knee injuries received in a fall while at work at the Homer Laughlin China Co.

Howard Snyder, 29, of 295 Haywood St., an employe of the American Vitrified Products Co., was treated for a laceration of the thumb suffered on a machine at work.

James Dingess, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs .C. M. Dingess of Newell Heights, received a laceration of a finger of the right hand on tine.

Fred Bennett, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bennett, 611 18th St., Wellsville, was treated for a muscle injury received while skating over the weekend.

Woman Wrecks En Route To Get Her Stolen Auto

A Cuyahoga Falls woman who came to Wellsville to recover her car which was stolen was involved in a collision with a truck Tuesday at 11:55 a. m. at 3rd and Main Sts., Wellsville.

Meanwhile, police said Warren authorities have picked up a 19-year-old Bristolville youth and two juvenile companions who drove another stolen car to Wellsville from Warren Monday night.

A car driven by Mrs. Florence Miller of Cuyahoga Falls and a tractor-trailer truck driven by William R. Weikart of Washingtonville collided at 3rd and Main when the woman cut in front of the truck, police said. The street makes a 90 degree turn at this point and Mrs. Miller went straight through the turn, heading south of 3rd toward Riverside Ave.

She was in Wellsville in another car to recover her car which was stolen Monday by three girls and two boys from the Summit County Children's Home at Akron. The teenagers abandoned her car and stole another owned by Ernest C. Mick, 1718 Clark Ave., from in front of his home. They were apprehended at 1:30 a. m. Tuesday morning in Mick's car at Carrollton.

Ronald Lewis Keller, 19, of Bristolville and two juveniles were turned over to Warren authorities yesterday afternoon. They were apprehended Monday midnight. One of the juveniles was spotted loitering on Riverside Ave. When questioned, he implicated the other two and confessed to having stolen a car.

Defers Sentence

CINCINNATI (AP)—Faced with a possible jail term, a Cincinnati widow asked Judge Gilbert Bettman: "May I bring my own towels and sheets?" The judge deferred sentence for Mrs. H. Frederick Schaefer, 78, until next Tuesday after convicting her on a charge of failure to yield her driving license. The state says an exam by an eye doctor indicates her eyesight is so poor she is unfit to drive.

Fireman's Training Of Help In Aiding Man

A Newell volunteer fireman's training for emergency situations was used to aid a Grant St. man who became seriously ill Tuesday afternoon.

Gene Lytton used mouth-to-mouth artificial respiration to revive Orell Johnson, 521 Grant St., after he developed a respiratory ailment yesterday afternoon at 3:30.

Lytton recently received training in the new respiration method. Firemen secured a tank of oxygen for the stricken man after receiving a call for aid.

Discounts Epidemic

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—There is no evidence of a statewide flu epidemic, the Health Department reported Tuesday. A spokesman said only 73 new cases have been tallied from the latest reports. The records take about 10 days to receive and process, so future reports may show a change, the spokesman commented.

Plans Detailed For Leniency In Check Case

A Steubenville man who pleaded guilty Monday in Municipal Court on charges he cashed two fraudulent $50 checks Nov. 13 at the A. & P. Super-market can win suspension of a fine of $200 and costs if he makes restitution to the store, Judge Samuel M. Chertoff decreed.

Making his fourth appearance before the judge on the charge, Harold Jacobs finally entered a guilty plea yesterday morning. Previously, he had declined to enter a plea, but the court had entered a not guilty plea on his behalf.

Judge Chertoff fined Jacobs $100 on each of two charges signed by Charles W. Shriver, manager of the market, alleging that Jacobs cashed the checks "with intent to defraud" and knowing that "he had insufficient funds and credit" with the Miners & Mechanics Savings & Trust Co. of Steubenville, on which they were drawn.

In appearances before the judge Thursday, Friday and Monday, Jacobs asked a continuance each time in order to secure counsel. He was being held in jail in lieu of a $1,000 bond. Jacobs was taken into custody last Wednesday by Steubenville police on warrants signed by Shriver.

Judge Chertoff told Jacobs the two $100 fines will be suspended provided the court receives word from Shriver that the defendant has started to make restitution. The judge said Jacobs must make the first payment on the checks by Feb. 1.

Offender Requests Pen Term To Escape Wife

HILLSBORO, Mo. (AP)—Harold F. Tobin, 38, pleaded guilty in Circuit Court Tuesday to cashing a bogus $93 check. Judge Edward Eversole mentioned probation as a possiibility because Tobin had not been in trouble before.

But Tobin blurted: "I don't want that. I want to go to the penitentiary. That's one way of getting away from my wife."

Plans Detailed For Leniency In Check Case

A Steubenville man who pleaded guilty Monday in Municipal Court on charges he cashed two fraudulent $50 checks Nov. 13 at the A. & P. Super-market can win suspension of a fine of $200 and costs if he makes restitution to the store, Judge Samuel M. Chertoff decreed.

Making his fourth appearance before the judge on the charge, Harold Jacobs finally entered a guilty plea yesterday morning. Previously, he had declined to enter a plea, but the court had entered a not guilty plea on his behalf.

Judge Chertoff fined Jacobs $100 on each of two charges signed by Charles W. Shriver, manager of the market, alleging that Jacobs cashed the checks "with intent to defraud" and knowing that "he had insufficient funds and credit" with the Miners & Mechanics Savings & Trust Co. of Steubenville, on which they were drawn.

In appearances before the judge Thursday, Friday and Monday, Jacobs asked a continuance each time in order to secure counsel. He was being held in jail in lieu of a $1,000 bond. Jacobs was taken into custody last Wednesday by Steubenville police on warrants signed by Shriver.

Judge Chertoff told Jacobs the two $100 fines will be suspended provided the court receives word from Shriver that the defendant has started to make restitution. The judge said Jacobs must make the first payment on the checks by Feb. 1.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

'Mrs. Miniver' Given New TV Triumph

"Mrs. Miniver" was a great if sentimental, wartime movie with Greer Garson which didn't prevent it from also being a marvelous television show with Maureen O'Hara the other night.

John Crosby

These taped remakes of old movies generally have been compared unfavorably with the originals but the fact is that I have yet to see one I didn't enjoy and "Mrs. Miniver," I think, was the best of the lot.

Right from the opening scene, Mrs. Miniver telling a neighbor about buying a hat she can't afford, right through to the end—the congregation singing "Oh God, Our Help in Ages Past" in the bombed church — every scene is pregnant with laughter or tears or both.

There's Mrs. Miniver admiring the rose the stationmaster wants to name after her.

There are husband and wife breaking to each other the news that each has been extravagant—he buying the new car he can't afford, she the new hat.

There's the son coming back from Oxford and exploding about the rights of the common man to Lady Beldon's granddaughter.

There's the vicar interrupting the hymn to climb to the pulpit and declare: "The Prime Minister has announced we are at war."

Then the tempo quickens. The older son announcing he'll join the RAF. The younger son: "The RAF! Will you be a hero?" The older son (carelessly): "I expect so." Old Lady Beldon sniffing that the trouble with wars is that they gave "little people" a chance to make themselves important. The older son coming home with his wings.

Then the scene at tea, God bless us every one, with the children saying: "Mother, is Vin going to marry Carol?" practically forcing an engagement on the blushing young couple right there at table.

THERE'S THE GREAT scene when the son's airplane in the sky signals mother that he's off on his mission; papa is off at Dunkerque rescuing the British Army; and mother is reading 'Alice in Wonderland" and weeping quietly to the children below.

It's a gasser all right and the story has only begun. Still ahead lie the scene in the bomb cellar, the bombs screaming down while mother and father comfort the crying children, Mrs. Miniver's triumph over both Lady Beldon and a Nazi flyer, and the death of the young bride—and oh, lots more.

The particular message of "Mrs. Miniver" which marked it off from all other war films up to then was that this war was directed at civilians.

The novelty has been worn off this idea but it has not reduced its urgency or its dramatic impact. There's still something dreadfully ironic about the fact that a young war bride gets killed (and with her, the harmless old station master) while her flyer husband is still alive.

Naturally, the TV production didn't have the scope or size of the picture, but it was a pretty fancy production just the same — with what seemed like a dozen different sets and quite a large cast.

MAUREEN O'HARA made a lovely Mrs. Miniver; my only complaint was that she looked a little young to have so grown-up a family.

Leo Gann was superbly British upper middle class as the father, Juliet Mills was a lovely young bride, and Paul Roebling was fine as the older son.

Only once did I get restive. That was the scene in which Mrs. Miniver trapped the Nazi flyer.

In the movie, this scene was frightening and loaded with meaning about the true differences between democracy and the Nazis. In the TV version, the flyer was reduced to making German grunts of almost total intelligibility. Somehow, the menace slipped out of the scene and much of the sense.

Otherwise, though, I had a lovely sentimental hour and a half of it.

In the movie houses now you'll be finding "On the Beach" in which all of mankind is obliterated. In comparison to that annihilation, this tale of World War II seems as old-fashioned as hoopskirts, as remote as the Crusades. The airplanes they had in that war seem in the glare of the missile age as quaint as crossbows.

Eggs Termed Excellent Buy

Eggs are an excellent choice for a source of protein at this time, according to Ed Watkins, market information agent with the Agricultural Extension Service.

Plenty of eggs may be included for breakfast, lunch or dinner as they are almost always an economical source of body-building protein. This is especially true now when supplies are on the increase.

Large size eggs are an especially good value with only a very few cents difference in price between that size and "mediums." This situation should continue for some time.

Another poultry product, although higher than the extremely low prices of recent times still is a good value — fryers. Poultry fryers at 39-46 cents still offer as much eating for the money as almost any other source of meat this week.

A few selected cuts of pork are about the only meats now more economical. With many markets featuring quality pork butt roasts, picnics and rib-end loin roasts at 29-39 cents, now is the time to enjoy these cuts. Pork sausage also rates a big checkmark for value.

Although it may not seem like it at the checkout counter, beef prices are somewhat under a year ago. No great change is expected, however, until late fall when reports indicate a larger amount of beef will start to move to market. Aside from the old standby — hamburger and ground beef — chuck roasts and liver seem to be among the value leaders. Rib and swiss steak are about as economical steak choices as are found.

The fresh vegetable situation is a little brighter. Reports indicate that crops are recovering faster than expected from weather damage. Supplies may soon be back to normal.

Head lettuce is lower in price and shipping prices indicate celery should be lower. Carrots and rutabagas are among the most desirably priced in fresh stock. Canned vegetables are usually a more economical choice than the tender produce at this time of year and this season is no exception.

Ruling Restores Tax Exemption In Ohio Churches

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A new ruling Tuesday restored sales tax exemption to churches and charitable organizations serving up to four dinners a year.

The regulation, filed with the Secretary of State by Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers, also applies to occasional rummage and "white elephant" sales by such organizations.

Bowers acted at the request of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. The tax commissioner's ruling knocked out a requirement applying the sales tax to all such affairs. Removal of the exemption followed revision of the sales tax laws by the last Legislature.

Prior to that change, churches and charitable organizations were exempt from the sales tax on occasional affairs.

Imposition of the sales tax to all such activities resulted in widespread protests from church and charitable organizations.

Two To Resume Posts At Mount Union Soon

ALLIANCE, Ohio — Returning to the Mount Union College campus at the beginning of the second semester will be Paul W. Whear, assistant professor of instrumental music, and William D. Krahling as director of publicity. Both have been away for graduate study.

Whear has been at Western Reserve University during the fall semester, where he completed course requirements for his doctorate. A member of the Mount Union faculty since 1952, he is also director of the band and orchestra.

Currently enrolled in the School of Journalism at the University of Iowa, Krahling will return to resume the duties of director of publicity, a position he held for one year before entering graduate school in September. He plans to continue work toward his master's degree next summer.

Sweepstakes Drawing Scheduled For Puppy

BOSTON (AP)—So many people want Scamp that a sweepstakes drawing will be held next week to determine his new home.

Scamp is a 4-month-old brown, black and white puppy who tugged at hundreds of heartstrings when his picture appeared in newspapers across the country last week.

Angell Memorial Hospital received 500 phone calls and 300 letters and telegrams from persons seeking to adopt the homeless puppy.

'Mrs. Miniver' Given New TV Triumph

"Mrs. Miniver" was a great if sentimental, wartime movie with Greer Garson which didn't prevent it from also being a marvelous television show with Maureen O'Hara the other night.

John Crosby

These taped remakes of old movies generally have been compared unfavorably with the originals but the fact is that I have yet to see one I didn't enjoy and "Mrs. Miniver," I think, was the best of the lot.

Right from the opening scene, Mrs. Miniver telling a neighbor about buying a hat she can't afford, right through to the end—the congregation singing "Oh God, Our Help in Ages Past" in the bombed church — every scene is pregnant with laughter or tears or both.

There are husband and wife breaking to each other the news that each has been extravagant—he buying the new car he can't afford, she the new hat.

There's the son coming back from Oxford and exploding about the rights of the common man to Lady Beldon's granddaughter.

There's the vicar interrupting the hymn to climb to the pulpit and declare: "The Prime Minister has announced we are at war."

Then the tempo quickens. The older son announcing he'll join the RAF. The younger son: "The RAF! Will you be a hero?" The older son (carelessly): "I expect so." Old Lady Beldon sniffing that the trouble with wars is that they gave "little people" a chance to make themselves important. The older son coming home with his wings.

Then the scene at tea, God bless us every one, with the children saying: "Mother, is Vin going to marry Carol?" practically forcing an engagement on the blushing young couple right there at table.

Two To Resume Posts At Mount Union Soon

ALLIANCE, Ohio — Returning to the Mount Union College campus at the beginning of the second semester will be Paul W. Whear, assistant professor of instrumental music, and William D. Krahling as director of publicity. Both have been away for graduate study.

Whear has been at Western Reserve University during the fall semester, where he completed course requirements for his doctorate. A member of the Mount Union faculty since 1952, he is also director of the band and orchestra.

Currently enrolled in the School of Journalism at the University of Iowa, Krahling will return to resume the duties of director of publicity, a position he held for one year before entering graduate school in September. He plans to continue work toward his master's degree next summer.

Sweepstakes Drawing Scheduled For Puppy

BOSTON (AP)—So many people want Scamp that a sweepstakes drawing will be held next week to determine his new home.

Scamp is a 4-month-old brown, black and white puppy who tugged at hundreds of heartstrings when his picture appeared in newspapers across the country last week.

Midland Rips New Brighton, 67-50, For Third Loop Win

Smith's 25, Rebounding Leads Way

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Movie Smith enjoyed the finest hour of his basketball career to date Tuesday night and led the Midland Leopards to a stunning 67-50 victory over New Brighton.

Maybe Cal Sheffield, New Brighton's outstanding cager, was the top player in Section 8 a year ago but Smith was it last night.

The 6-foot-3 pivot star scored 25 points for his highest total of the season. Not only was his point-making outstanding, but he battled his way up for an astounding 28 rebounds.

HE WAS never sharper from the field than last night. Smith took 17 shots and hit on 12 for a 70 per cent average.

Smith played a full 32 minutes of outstanding basketball.

What was expected to be a close contest thus turned out to be a rout. Sheffield, who had been averaging more than 20 points a game before last night, drew three quick fouls early and sat on the bench almost half of the contest.

It was apparent his loss hurt New Brighton, but the red - hot Leopards turned in a 46 per cent shooting mark, making 28 of 60 shots.

Sheffield scored 8 of his teams 9 points in the first quarter, but Midland held a 15-9 edge.

By halftime the Leopards had extended the margin to 37-26 and held a 20-point advantage, 58-38, after three periods.

Coach George Hamilton started Barney Silverman last night and it proved a good move. Silverman, the handy man on the Midland squad, contributed 11 points to the attack and was in on his share of rebounds.

The officials called a close game and fouls were the rule rather than the exception.

With Sheffield spending most of the time on the bench, Paul Lowrey was the big gun for New Brighton.

Lowrey, a workhorse, tossed in 24 points, almost matching Smith's output. Lowrey, a 6-footer, fired in 8 field goals and 8 of 11 fouls.

Holding the 15-9 lead after the first quarter, Midland went on a 10-point scoring spree to open the second quarter and New Brighton never got back in the game.

LAKE OPENED with a bucket to make it 17-11, Silverman, Yetso, Smith and Lake followed with successive goals to boost the lead to 25-11 with only two minutes gone in the period.

Sheffield drew his third foul midway in the period and the Leopards didn't have to worry too much about his scoring ability.

When Migliore hit on a set shot with 1:52 remaining, Midland led 37-17.

However, the Leopards failed to score in the last minute and 52 seconds and New Brighton, led by Lowery, scored 9 straight points to bring the Lions within 11, 37-26.

Smith enjoyed his best quarter with 12 points and led Midland to a 58-38 margin at the end of three quarters.

Smith was almost impossible to stop as he hit from any place around the bucket.

Midland had little trouble coasting through the final quarter.

Stanton Local Keeps String Alive

Mills, Spires Pace Irons To Eighth In Row

By CHARLES CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

Stanton Local of Irondale took another stride towards its best season record since 1937 by polishing off rival Salineville Tuesday night, 79-66, before a packed house at the gymnasium in Irondale.

The victory was the eighth in a row for Coach Les Douglas' powerful Irons, who apparently are the kingpin club among Jefferson County's Class A schools.

The twice-beaten Irons were in command most of the way and staged a 29-point final period assault to post the victory in decisive fashion.

TWO BIG sophomores — Don "Stilt" Spires, 6-4 center, and Bob Mills, 6-2 forward provided the scoring punch for the Irons with 21 and 25 points, respectively.

The defeat was the fifth in nine starts for Coach Dick Jones' smaller Salineville five.

While Spires and Mills took charge of Stanton's offense, guards Lonnie Fraley and Bill Chetock performed outstanding on defense with their hustling brand of play.

Salineville, battling superior height, put up a stiff fight and nearly overtook the Irons in the third period of the foul - marred contest.

Spires popped in eight goals and five free throws in about three quarters of action. He was benched after two minutes had elapsed in the third period and was charged with his fifth personal with about three minutes left in the game. The field goals came on soft jump shots from the right of the free throw lane and on tip-ins.

Dave Gearin led the Indians with 15 points, while Tom Keating, Bud Leatherberry and Kerr each chipped in with 10.

Stanton outscored Salineville from the floor by only two field goals, but made 33 free throws to 24 by the losers.

Spires and Mills began scoring from the inside in the second quarter and the Irons proceeded to build up a 10-point lead, 36-26, and held command the rest of the way.

THE FLEET Chetock was a bearcat on defense and flipped in eight points despite a cut over his eye suffered during rough floor action. Fraley, equally as tough on defense, finished with three goals and five fouls for 11 points. Earl Allen made six on fouls. He saw limited action because of personal fouls.

Stanton will be out to better its 8-2 record in going against dangerous Smithfield Friday night at Irondale. The Smiths, 5-3 for the season, are led by big Carl (Goose) Young, 6-3 center and prolific scorer.

Salineville will meet another rugged opponent in its next outing Tuesday night against Coach Al Girone's Conotton Valley Rockets, once-beaten in eight games. Girone is a Salineville product an former cage star with the Indians.

Bush Is Hero With Late Goal

East Palestine Pulls Upset, 44-43

POLAND — Jerry Bush was the toast of East Palestine last night while Poland's Jim Bennett proved the "goat" in Poland's 44-43 loss to the Bulldogs here Tuesday night.

Bush had to share the honors with Poland's Bennett who pulled a "wrong way Riegel" Bennett took the opening tipoff and scored at the wrong basket to give East Palestine a 2-0 lead.

Bennett's miscue later proved the margin of victory for East Palestine.

It marked the third straight Tri-County League victory for Coach Don Hinten's Bulldogs. East Palestine and Minerva share the lead with perfect 3-0 marks.

East Palestine took advantage of Poland's poor third quarter. Trailing 26-16 at halftime, the Bulldogs, outscored, Poland 17 to 8 in the third period and took the lead, 33-32.

Chuck Robinson and Willis Woods led the third quarter attack for the Bulldogs.

Robinson wound up high man for East Palestine with 13 points while Woods scored 11. Bush only made two field goals for the evening, but one proved to be the clincher.

Midland Rips New Brighton, 67-50, For Third Loop Win

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Movie Smith enjoyed the finest hour of his basketball career to date Tuesday night and led the Midland Leopards to a stunning 67-50 victory over New Brighton.

Maybe Cal Sheffield, New Brighton's outstanding cager, was the top player in Section 8 a year ago but Smith was it last night.

The 6-foot-3 pivot star scored 25 points for his highest total of the season. Not only was his point-making outstanding, but he battled his way up for an astounding 28 rebounds.

Hopewell 46, Rochester 44

HE WAS never sharper from the field than last night. Smith took 17 shots and hit on 12 for a 70 per cent average.

Smith played a full 32 minutes of outstanding basketball.

What was expected to be a close contest thus turned out to be a rout. Sheffield, who had been averaging more than 20 points a game before last night, drew three quick fouls early and sat on the bench almost half of the contest.

It was apparent his loss hurt New Brighton, but the red - hot Leopards turned in a 46 per cent shooting mark, making 28 of 60 shots.

Sheffield scored 8 of his teams 9 points in the first quarter, but Midland held a 15-9 edge.

By halftime the Leopards had extended the margin to 37-26 and held a 20-point advantage, 58-38, after three periods.

Coach George Hamilton started Barney Silverman last night and it proved a good move. Silverman, the handy man on the Midland squad, contributed 11 points to the attack and was in on his share of rebounds.

The officials called a close game and fouls were the rule rather than the exception.

With Sheffield spending most of the time on the bench, Paul Lowrey was the big gun for New Brighton.

Smith's 25, Rebounding Leads Way

Lowrey, a workhorse, tossed in 24 points, almost matching Smith's output. Lowrey, a 6-footer, fired in 8 field goals and 8 of 11 fouls.

Sheffield ended up with 11 points.

Holding the 15-9 lead after the first quarter, Midland went on a 10-point scoring spree to open the second quarter and New Brighton never got back in the game.

LAKE OPENED with a bucket to make it 17-11, Silverman, Yetso, Smith and Lake followed with successive goals to boost the lead to 25-11 with only two minutes gone in the period.

Sheffield drew his third foul midway in the period and the Leopards didn't have to worry too much about his scoring ability.

When Migliore hit on a set shot with 1:52 remaining, Midland led 37-17.

However, the Leopards failed to score in the last minute and 52 seconds and New Brighton, led by Lowery, scored 9 straight points to bring the Lions within 11, 37-26.

Smith enjoyed his best quarter with 12 points and led Midland to a 58-38 margin at the end of three quarters.

Smith was almost impossible to stop as he hit from any place around the bucket.

Midland had little trouble coasting through the final quarter.

Stanton Local Keeps String Alive

By CHARLES CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

Stanton Local of Irondale took another stride towards its best season record since 1937 by polishing off rival Salineville Tuesday night, 79-66, before a packed house at the gymnasium in Irondale.

The victory was the eighth in a row for Coach Les Douglas' powerful Irons, who apparently are the kingpin club among Jefferson County's Class A schools.

The twice-beaten Irons were in command most of the way and staged a 29-point final period assault to post the victory in decisive fashion.

TWO BIG sophomores — Don "Stilt" Spires, 6-4 center, and Bob Mills, 6-2 forward provided the scoring punch for the Irons with 21 and 25 points, respectively.

The defeat was the fifth in nine starts for Coach Dick Jones' smaller Salineville five.

While Spires and Mills took charge of Stanton's offense, guards Lonnie Fraley and Bill Chetock performed outstanding on defense with their hustling brand of play.

Salineville, battling superior height, put up a stiff fight and nearly overtook the Irons in the third period of the foul - marred contest.

Spires popped in eight goals and five free throws in about three quarters of action. He was benched after two minutes had elapsed in the third period and was charged with his fifth personal with about three minutes left in the game. The field goals came on soft jump shots from the right of the free throw lane and on tip-ins.

Dave Gearin led the Indians with 15 points, while Tom Keating, Bud Leatherberry and Kerr each chipped in with 10.

Stanton outscored Salineville from the floor by only two field goals, but made 33 free throws to 24 by the losers.

Spires and Mills began scoring from the inside in the second quarter and the Irons proceeded to build up a 10-point lead, 36-26, and held command the rest of the way.

THE FLEET Chetock was a bearcat on defense and flipped in eight points despite a cut over his eye suffered during rough floor action. Fraley, equally as tough on defense, finished with three goals and five fouls for 11 points. Earl Allen made six on fouls. He saw limited action because of personal fouls.

Stanton will be out to better its 8-2 record in going against dangerous Smithfield Friday night at Irondale. The Smiths, 5-3 for the season, are led by big Carl (Goose) Young, 6-3 center and prolific scorer.

Salineville will meet another rugged opponent in its next outing Tuesday night against Coach Al Girone's Conotton Valley Rockets, once-beaten in eight games. Girone is a Salineville product an former cage star with the Indians.

POLAND — Jerry Bush was the toast of East Palestine last night while Poland's Jim Bennett proved the "goat" in Poland's 44-43 loss to the Bulldogs here Tuesday night.

Bush had to share the honors with Poland's Bennett who pulled a "wrong way Riegel" Bennett took the opening tipoff and scored at the wrong basket to give East Palestine a 2-0 lead.

Bennett's miscue later proved the margin of victory for East Palestine.

It marked the third straight Tri-County League victory for Coach Don Hinten's Bulldogs. East Palestine and Minerva share the lead with perfect 3-0 marks.

East Palestine took advantage of Poland's poor third quarter. Trailing 26-16 at halftime, the Bulldogs, outscored, Poland 17 to 8 in the third period and took the lead, 33-32.

Beaver Local Shakes Off Late Threat To Top Chester

Durbin Leads Beaver Quint To Third Win

Beaver Local High repelled a final quarter threat and racked up its third victory of the season in gaining a hard-fought 65-58 decision over Chester High's Panthers Tuesday night on the Chester planks.

Coach Max Tuttle's Panthers fought from behind to tie the score at 52-52 in the final minutes on a field goal by Gary Daugherty, but the rally faded moments later as the Beavers forged ahead.

Bill Reed of Beaver Local dropped in a field goal to break the deadlocked score and Coach Jack Frontone's Beavers slowly pulled away to escape with a narrow verdict.

The Beavers scored five points in the final 57 seconds to settle the outcome. Chester failed to retaliate after a 60-58 score.

The defeat was the fourth in eight games for Chester. Beaver Local is 3-5 with two victories in a row.

Three of the Beavers posted double figures as Mike Durbin topped all scorers with 22 points on 10 goals and a pair of fouls. Thurm Allen and Dale Barnhart each finished with 12. Reed chipped in with nine, including the field goal that put the Beavers in front to stay in the final minutes.

John Steele led Chester's attack with 18 points. Bob Shaffer continued to click by pumping in 16. Bill Mayhew added 14 while Blaine Pinney returned to action after a recent injury and canned four points.

Acting NFL Commissioner May Be Elected To Job

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National Football League elects a commissioner next week and the man who seems least perturbed by the momentous event is now doing the job.

Soft-spoken Austin H. Gunsel says he's too busy to worry about whether the club owners want to delete the "acting" from his present title of acting commissioner.

Actually, the 50-year-old Gunsel has been doing two monumental full-time jobs since Commissioner Bert Bell died last Oct. 11. The former FBI agent has been carrying out duties of the commissioner and his own jobs of league treasurer and watchdog.

Aus, as his friends refer to him, came into the NFL seven years ago to protect the growing organization from scandal. He formerly was administrative assistant to FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover.

Asked point blank if he wants permanent possession of the commissioner's office, Gunsel pondered a moment and replied:

"I would take it if it's offered to me, but I won't campaign for it. The way I've operated the office will have to speak for itself. If it doesn't speak loud enough they should take someone else."

One league source said owners he has talked with feel Gunsel has conducted himself efficiently, made the necessary decision with dispatch and maintained the high level public relations of his predecessor.

The only avowed aspirant to the job is Detroit President Edwin J. Andersons. Others mentioned from time to time have been Baltimore's General Manager Don Kellett, San Francisco attorney Marshall Leahy, Washington owner George P. Marshall, Philadelphia Vice President Joe Donoghue, Chicago Bears' owner George Halas, former Army Coach Earl Blaik; Cleveland Coach Paul Brown, and Paul Schissler, Los Angeles Times special events director.

Ohio Tracks Seek 9 Races On Daily Card

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Requests for a ninth—or extra—horse race during each day's program at Ohio thoroughbred tracks were heard Tuesday by the Racing Commission.

Last Tuesday the commission approved a condition book for Ascot Park. It provided for only eight races. A spokesman said this was a forecast of what Ohio tracks could expect from the commission.

The Ohio Thoroughbred Racing Assn. was invited to support its claim that the extra race would bring in one-ninth of track revenue.

A spokesman for the Mutuel Clerks' Guild said the ninth race could give some clerks $600 extra a year. Clerks are paid $2 for each ninth race.

In other action the commission received a protest from the Fairfield County Agriculture Board that Hillard Raceway, meeting at Scioto Downs, conflicts with Fairfield County Fair race events Oct. 12-15.

The commission approved transfer of racing dates to the new owners of Thistledown and Cranwood raceways in Cleveland. The dates had been allotted to the old owners.

Edward J. DeBatolo of Youngstown, head of the group which purchased the tracks, appeared before the commission.

Only Two Ohio Squads Stay Among Unbeaten

By The Associated Press

Oberlin was knocked from basketball's unbeaten ranks Tuesday night as Akron scored a not unexpected 77-66 win.

Only Cincinnati and Defiance now are left as unbeaten Ohio collegiate teams. And they get stiff tests tonight, the Bearcats entertaining rugged St. Louis while Defiance visits Ohio Northern.

The Akron-Oberlin set-to was one of four Ohio Conference games Tuesday night. Muskingum edged Denison 71-68, Capital dumped Kenyon 85-60, and Heidelberg trimmed Hiram 90-79 in the others.

Akron (7-4 over-all) held a 44-29 lead at the half as Alex Adams pumped in 21 points for the victors. Oberlin's Ron Jacobs made 20 as the Yeomen's victory streak ended at six.

With the score 55-55, Muskingum (6-2 over-all) tallied eight straight points and went on to its surprisingly tight triumph over Denison (2-6). The game was tied 15 times and the lead changed hands 12 times. Tom Edwards clicked with 23 points for Denison.

The Muskies upped their O.C. record to 6-1, staying hot on the heels of pacesetting Wittenberg (4-0) and Wooster (3-0). Akron and Oberlin come next with 2-1 conference marks.

Capital romped to a 10-point halftime lead over Kenyon after the Lords' Jeff Slade was sidelined with a sprained ankle. Before Slade was taken out, Kenyon led 25-24. He returned to total 25 points for the night.

Duane Warns amassed 35 points to pull Heidelberg past Hiram. Bob Roy of Hiram, a freshman substitute, was the surprise of the game as he hit for 30.

In other games, Western Reserve downed Fenn 72-50 for the Cats' first win under new coach Frank Spechalske; Ashland defeated Findlay 95-93 in a Mid-Ohio League tussle, and John Carroll hiked its Presidents Athletic Conference record to 4-0 by whipping Allegheny 99-85.

The game between Baldwin-Wallace and Eastern Michigan was cancelled as fog prevented B-W's airplane from landing at Detroit.

Club Names Musuraca As New President

Musuraca, who is supervisor of planning and production at the Crucible Steel Co. in Midland, replaces H. A. "Hap" Tullis.

Red Montgomery was named vice-president, while Charles Cronin was elected secretary and Frank A. Dawson, treasurer.

Named to the board of trustees were Tullis and Chuck Winters.

Beaver Local Shakes Off Late Threat To Top Chester

Durbin Leads Beaver Quint To Third Win

Beaver Local High repelled a final quarter threat and racked up its third victory of the season in gaining a hard-fought 65-58 decision over Chester High's Panthers Tuesday night on the Chester planks.

Coach Max Tuttle's Panthers fought from behind to tie the score at 52-52 in the final minutes on a field goal by Gary Daugherty, but the rally faded moments later as the Beavers forged ahead.

Bill Reed of Beaver Local dropped in a field goal to break the deadlocked score and Coach Jack Frontone's Beavers slowly pulled away to escape with a narrow verdict.

The Beavers scored five points in the final 57 seconds to settle the outcome. Chester failed to retaliate after a 60-58 score.

The defeat was the fourth in eight games for Chester. Beaver Local is 3-5 with two victories in a row.

Three of the Beavers posted double figures as Mike Durbin topped all scorers with 22 points on 10 goals and a pair of fouls. Thurm Allen and Dale Barnhart each finished with 12. Reed chipped in with nine, including the field goal that put the Beavers in front to stay in the final minutes.

John Steele led Chester's attack with 18 points. Bob Shaffer continued to click by pumping in 16. Bill Mayhew added 14 while Blaine Pinney returned to action after a recent injury and canned four points.

HIDDEN BALL PLAY. Arms fly in all directions in an attempt to gain possession of the ball which can barely be seen in the top of the picture wrapped up in hands and arms. Only 3 Major Colleges Remain Unbeaten

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

Many years ago when I was a young man I met a middle-aged fellow who told me he had never eaten anything "that ever breathed a breath of life." Recently, I met a young woman who told me the same thing. Both lived on dairy products, vegetables and fruit, primarily. Both looked well nourished.

Suppose all the people in America suddenly decided not to eat anything "that ever breathed a breath of life"!

Cattle would be used only to provide dairy products and leather. Only the hide and wool of sheep would be of any value. Pigs would be virtually non-existent.

POULTRY WOULD provide eggs, while the present day synthetics would do away with goose down for pillows or mattresses.

Beasts of burden like horses and mules are almost a thing of the past now and the flesh of these animals is used for dog and mink food mainly, although baseballs are supposed to be made from horsehide.

Feathers from ornamental birds like pheasants would be used to ornate my lady's hat in a very limited way, until they became extinct.

If I, as an individual, quit eating meat and put the money in the bank that I saved, I would leave my family a sizable bank account if I lived out my life expectancy. But what if everybody quit eating meat?

All lands now retired under the Soil Bank plan would have to be put back into cultivation. And it is doubtful if we would have enough pasture land to raise livestock just for dairy products and leather. And there wouldn't be much room left for fertilizer and soap factories that would provide the only use for animal carcases.

America would become a desert eventually.

THE GENERAL land use would remove woods and the brushy areas not needed to take care of our present demands and along with it certain forms of wildlife would no longer exist. Hunters would be few and far between, while trappers would soon kill off all the mink and muskrats that inhabit our ponds and streams.

In fact, if people were not meat eaters it would force all the farms in America into bankruptcy long before they could change the entire pattern of farming to meet the vegetarian demands.

Just goes to prove that the birds and animals were put here for a purpose and to benefit mankind. Domestic animals are of first importance, but on the other hand hunting and fishing is here to stay and wildlife as a secondary crop cannot ever be discounted. In fact we need more attention paid to wildlife on the farmlands, the only place wildlife has to exist.

Many farmers are now improving wildlife habitat on their lands that does not interfere with good farming practices. These men deserve a medal. It's a good thing we are meat eaters.

Texas Aggies Knocked From Unbeaten List

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Basketball's major unbeaten list is down to three today after Texas A&M's loss to Southern Methodist, and the same whammy may be ready for the survivors — top-ranked Cincinnati, Villanova and LaSalle.

Cincinnati (12-0), touching off a two-game challenge week within the powerful Missouri Valley Conference, is at home to 11th-ranked St. Louis (10-3) while LaSalle (9-0) and ninth-pegged Villanova (9-0) face a couple of toughies in a doubleheader at Philadelphia's Palestra.

LaSalle goes against Syracuse, beaten only twice in seven games, and Villanova faces Temple, 10-3 for the season.

Looking ahead, if Cincinnati and Villanova survive tonight each has an even tougher test Saturday with Cincinnati at Bradley, which has won 29 straight home games, and Villanova at West Virginia, where the third-ranked Mountaineers have reeled off 39 consecutive home court victories.

The home court couldn't help Texas A&M's 10-game unbeaten streak Tuesday night, as 6-7 Steve Strange and SMU used two second half spurts for a 66-64 upset. Strange, a 205-pound junior, got 34 points while the Aggies's ace sophomore, Carroll Broussard, was held to meager four.

The loss boosted idle Texas (3-0) into the Southwest Conference lead and dropped the Aggies into a triple second-place tie with Arkansas and SMU at 2-1. Baylor defeated Texas Tech 71-60 and TCU nailed Rice 86-63 for their for their first conference victories in other Southwest games.

Duke ran its Atlantic Coast Conference record to 4-0 with a 50-41 decision over Clemson, George Washington whipped Southern Conference foe Richmond 78-58, and Detroit won its 11th against two losses, 89-85 over tough Marquette (9-4) in other Tuesday features.

Long Island University, once a titan of Eastern basketball, pulled an important upset, whipping by a 74-65 count the Seton Hall team that last Saturday beat highly regarded St. Joseph's (Pa.). Pitt, with Johnny Mills scoring 27 points, snapped a five-game losing string 75-59 over William & Mary, and Dick Harvey and Dick Hartmann controlled the boards and scored 21 points apiece as Creighton defeated Omaha 74-52.

Mike Graney's four points in the last minute gave Notre Dame (10-3) a 73-70 decision over DePaul while St. Joseph's (Pa.) got back in stride 83-69 over Lehigh. Western Kentucky scored a 71-67 Ohio Valley Conference victory over Tennessee Tech.

Decision Due Today On Football Sub Rule

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Today is the day of decision for the college football Rules Committee, and before nightfall the public will know under which substitution rule the game will be played next fall.

Unlimited substitution, in effect before 1953, seemed unlikely to return. Some change, however, may be made in the rule in effect this past year.

That it wouldn't be unlimited substitution was indicated clearly by the fact the committee still was pondering the substitution checkoff rule, a rule which would be unnecessary if free substitutions were in effect.

Schayes First To Hit 15,000

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Now that Syracuse's Dolph Schayes has become the first player in the history of the National Basketball Assn. to score 15,000 points, he has no pressing "next" ambition. He simply wants to continue playing basketball—"my first love."

The former New York University star, now in his 12th season with the Nats, dumped in 34 points Tuesday night and teammate George Yardley collected 47 to lead the Nats to a 127-120 victory over slumping Boston.

Schayes' performance hiked his career total to 15,013 points. He hit his 15,000th point toward the end of the third quarter. The game was halted and the ball presented to him and a Convention Hall capacity crowd of 11,344 gave him a standing ovation.

"It was a great feeling," the 31-year-old, 6-8 Schayes said afterward.

The Philadelphia Warriors streaked to their ninth straight victory—a club record—in the nightcap of the doubleheader by defeating St. Louis 126-108 as Wilt Chamberlain grabbed off 37 points and Paul Arizin 26.

In the only other NBA action, New York beat Cincinnati 141-123 in a contest marked by a fracas in which several punches were thrown by the Royals' Jack Twyman and the Knicks' Richie Guerin.

Schayes explained his success modestly, saying he practiced constantly and in each game forced himself to give a little more even when dead tired.

"I don't think I'm the best scorer but I've been at it the longest and that's the secret," he added. "I've played more games than anyone else. Last night's was the 800th I believe."

While Schayes never has won a season scoring race, his steady scoring has kept him ahead of Boston's Bob Cousy in the all-time derby.

Giants To Take Over Offices In New Park

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants can start fixing up their office space in Candlestick Park today.

After a two-hour conference on a stalemate over extra construction items, Tuesday, Mayor George Christopher announced contractor Charles Harney has agreed to let the Giants take possession of their offices.

Alan K. Browne, president of Stadium, Inc., the nonprofit organization handling the new ball park's financing, said the disputed extra cost items would be paid for with bonds.

Harney's price for the stadium, without the extra items expected to run about $600,000, was $7,046,000.

White Sox Will Gamble Next Year, Lopez Says

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox are going to be a gambling, running ball club again even if those tactics did cost them the World Series against Los Angeles.

"We gambled and won the pennant, we gambled and lost the series and we're going to gamble again this year," said Manager Al Lopez at the team's mid-winter luncheon which was greeted by spring-like rain and temperatures.

Lopez said he expects the Sox to be a lot faster this year with the acquisition of third-baseman Gene Freese from Philadelphia and outfielder Minnie Minoso from Cleveland.

"We added power and speed to our starting lineup without giving up any frontliners," said Lopez.

Lopez wouldn't make any predictions for the 1960 campaign but said "We've always been chasing the Yankees. Well, we're through chasing. Now they have to catch us."

The good senor indicated that might not be too easy. He said he was content with the club as it now stands but would be happy to add some reserve strength.

Someone asked Lopez to name a starting lineup and Al said "Luis Aparicio will be at short and leadoff and Nellie Fox will bat second. That's as far as I can go."

Bill Veeck, club president, chuckled and added "Yes, Luis will walk, steal second. Fox will single him home and our pitchers will shut out the opposition. That's all there is too it."

Anderson, Hale Squads Wins In 'Y' Member Loop

Joe Anderson paced his team to its first win by pumping in 14 points while Jim Eckstein added 12 in a 58-53 victory over Weekley's.

Morgon Barton was high for the game with 19 points in a losing cause. Wayne Cline added 16 for the losers. Hales' gained a 61-57 win over Klubert's. Bob Hull paced the winners with 25 and was high man for the evening.

Jan Burke's 20 markers topped Klubert's.

Paul Has No Qualms About Trading Temple

CINCINNATI (AP) — General Manager Gabe Paul, chief tradesman for the Cincinnati Reds, has no qualms about the swapping of his ace second baseman, Johnny Temple, to Cleveland.

Paul said Tuesday at the Reds' annual winter party that Temple will do well at Cleveland, but:

"I think Cincinnati will do better."

The Reds in the trade got pitcher Cal McLish, 19-game winner last season, plus two other players.

Paul said "McLish is a low ball pitcher and he'll get just as many calls in his favor in the National League as in the American League."

Paul also spoke of the trade of one-time slugger Frank Thomas to Chicago for relief pitcher Bill Henry.

"I imagine the deal with Chicago will come back to haunt us," he said, "but we had to think of our own ball club."

Waterfield Named New Coach Of Los Angeles

The 39 - year - old Waterfield thinks he has the prescription for whatever ails the puzzling club:

"More wins, I guess. When you're losing, everyone is griping. We're gonna try to win 'em all."

Ol' Waterbuckts signed a five-year contract Tuesday. Salary terms were not disclosed. He replaces Sid Gillman, who left at the management's request last year after five seasons. Gillman since has become coach of the rival Los Angeles Chargers of the American Football League.

Last season the Rams were expected to be a top contender. But they folded into the cellar with a 2-10 record — their worst in history.

In his eight seasons with the Rams Waterfield led the club to two National Football League titles, four division championships and one tie for first place. He joined the Rams in 1945 after starring as a UCLA quarterback. He assisted Gillman during the 1958 season.

25,782 Playing Cage Sport In Ohio High School

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A total of 25,782 youngsters are scurrying over the hardwoods as members of Ohio's 993 high school basketball teams this winter.

For the first time in decades the number of schools is under the 1,000 mark, Commissioner W. J. McConnell of the Athletic Assn. said today.

In all sports the eligibility lists show 106,067 on varsity squads. The breakdown for other sports (number of schools participating in parentheses):

Track (750), 22,489; baseball (862), 17,245; wrestling (141), 4,234; golf (262), 2,609) cross country (170), 2,550; tennis 142), 1,436; swimming (49), 1,471; six-man football (18), 295, and eight-man football (7), 139.

Fullmer-Robinson Bout In 'Planning' Stage

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A middleweight title bout between NBA champion Gene Fullmer and Sugar Ray Robinson is in the planning stage, Fullmer's manager said Tuesday.

Marv Jenson said negotiations may be completed in New York this week.

Fullmer outpointed Robinson in January 1957 to take the title but Robinson knocked him out in May of that year to regain it. The NBA since has taken the title from him because of his infrequent defenses.

Scramble On In All-Star Bowling Meet

OMAHA (AP) — The scramble for the All-Star Bowling Championship got under way Tuesday in traditional fashion with the lead changing hands at the end of every squad in the men's division.

Smith had accumulated 78-09 Petersen points, the standard by which the champion will ultimately be decided, by the end of the round. Under the Petersen system a bowler gets one point for every game he wins and every 50 pins scored.

7-Minute Brawl Marks Pro Game In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — A pro basketball game was interrupted by a brawl Tuesday night that brought together the benches of the Cincinnati Royals and New York Knickerbockers.

The melee started after Cincinnati's Jack Twyman drove in and scored a field goal. Twyman and New York's Richie Guerin began trading punches and wound up struggling on the floor.

By R. L. LIDE

Many years ago when I was a young man I met a middle-aged fellow who told me he had never eaten anything "that ever breathed a breath of life." Recently, I met a young woman who told me the same thing. Both lived on dairy products, vegetables and fruit, primarily. Both looked well nourished.

Suppose all the people in America suddenly decided not to eat anything "that ever breathed a breath of life"!

Cattle would be used only to provide dairy products and leather. Only the hide and wool of sheep would be of any value. Pigs would be virtually non-existent.

POULTRY WOULD provide eggs, while the present day synthetics would do away with goose down for pillows or mattresses.

Beasts of burden like horses and mules are almost a thing of the past now and the flesh of these animals is used for dog and mink food mainly, although baseballs are supposed to be made from horsehide.

Feathers from ornamental birds like pheasants would be used to ornate my lady's hat in a very limited way, until they became extinct.

If I, as an individual, quit eating meat and put the money in the bank that I saved, I would leave my family a sizable bank account if I lived out my life expectancy. But what if everybody quit eating meat?

Texas Aggies Knocked From Unbeaten List

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Basketball's major unbeaten list is down to three today after Texas A&M's loss to Southern Methodist, and the same whammy may be ready for the survivors — top-ranked Cincinnati, Villanova and LaSalle.

Cincinnati (12-0), touching off a two-game challenge week within the powerful Missouri Valley Conference, is at home to 11th-ranked St. Louis (10-3) while LaSalle (9-0) and ninth-pegged Villanova (9-0) face a couple of toughies in a doubleheader at Philadelphia's Palestra.

LaSalle goes against Syracuse, beaten only twice in seven games, and Villanova faces Temple, 10-3 for the season.

Looking ahead, if Cincinnati and Villanova survive tonight each has an even tougher test Saturday with Cincinnati at Bradley, which has won 29 straight home games, and Villanova at West Virginia, where the third-ranked Mountaineers have reeled off 39 consecutive home court victories.

The home court couldn't help Texas A&M's 10-game unbeaten streak Tuesday night, as 6-7 Steve Strange and SMU used two second half spurts for a 66-64 upset. Strange, a 205-pound junior, got 34 points while the Aggies's ace sophomore, Carroll Broussard, was held to meager four.

The loss boosted idle Texas (3-0) into the Southwest Conference lead and dropped the Aggies into a triple second-place tie with Arkansas and SMU at 2-1. Baylor defeated Texas Tech 71-60 and TCU nailed Rice 86-63 for their for their first conference victories in other Southwest games.

Duke ran its Atlantic Coast Conference record to 4-0 with a 50-41 decision over Clemson, George Washington whipped Southern Conference foe Richmond 78-58, and Detroit won its 11th against two losses, 89-85 over tough Marquette (9-4) in other Tuesday features.

Long Island University, once a titan of Eastern basketball, pulled an important upset, whipping by a 74-65 count the Seton Hall team that last Saturday beat highly regarded St. Joseph's (Pa.). Pitt, with Johnny Mills scoring 27 points, snapped a five-game losing string 75-59 over William & Mary, and Dick Harvey and Dick Hartmann controlled the boards and scored 21 points apiece as Creighton defeated Omaha 74-52.

Mike Graney's four points in the last minute gave Notre Dame (10-3) a 73-70 decision over DePaul while St. Joseph's (Pa.) got back in stride 83-69 over Lehigh. Western Kentucky scored a 71-67 Ohio Valley Conference victory over Tennessee Tech.

Decision Due Today On Football Sub Rule

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Today is the day of decision for the college football Rules Committee, and before nightfall the public will know under which substitution rule the game will be played next fall.

Unlimited substitution, in effect before 1953, seemed unlikely to return. Some change, however, may be made in the rule in effect this past year.

That it wouldn't be unlimited substitution was indicated clearly by the fact the committee still was pondering the substitution checkoff rule, a rule which would be unnecessary if free substitutions were in effect.

Schayes First To Hit 15,000

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Now that Syracuse's Dolph Schayes has become the first player in the history of the National Basketball Assn. to score 15,000 points, he has no pressing "next" ambition. He simply wants to continue playing basketball—"my first love."

The former New York University star, now in his 12th season with the Nats, dumped in 34 points Tuesday night and teammate George Yardley collected 47 to lead the Nats to a 127-120 victory over slumping Boston.

Schayes' performance hiked his career total to 15,013 points. He hit his 15,000th point toward the end of the third quarter. The game was halted and the ball presented to him and a Convention Hall capacity crowd of 11,344 gave him a standing ovation.

"It was a great feeling," the 31-year-old, 6-8 Schayes said afterward.

The Philadelphia Warriors streaked to their ninth straight victory—a club record—in the nightcap of the doubleheader by defeating St. Louis 126-108 as Wilt Chamberlain grabbed off 37 points and Paul Arizin 26.

In the only other NBA action, New York beat Cincinnati 141-123 in a contest marked by a fracas in which several punches were thrown by the Royals' Jack Twyman and the Knicks' Richie Guerin.

Schayes explained his success modestly, saying he practiced constantly and in each game forced himself to give a little more even when dead tired.

"I don't think I'm the best scorer but I've been at it the longest and that's the secret," he added. "I've played more games than anyone else. Last night's was the 800th I believe."

While Schayes never has won a season scoring race, his steady scoring has kept him ahead of Boston's Bob Cousy in the all-time derby.

Giants To Take Over Offices In New Park

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Giants can start fixing up their office space in Candlestick Park today.

After a two-hour conference on a stalemate over extra construction items, Tuesday, Mayor George Christopher announced contractor Charles Harney has agreed to let the Giants take possession of their offices.

Alan K. Browne, president of Stadium, Inc., the nonprofit organization handling the new ball park's financing, said the disputed extra cost items would be paid for with bonds.

Harney's price for the stadium, without the extra items expected to run about $600,000, was $7,046,000.

White Sox Will Gamble Next Year, Lopez Says

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox are going to be a gambling, running ball club again even if those tactics did cost them the World Series against Los Angeles.

"We gambled and won the pennant, we gambled and lost the series and we're going to gamble again this year," said Manager Al Lopez at the team's mid-winter luncheon which was greeted by spring-like rain and temperatures.

Lopez said he expects the Sox to be a lot faster this year with the acquisition of third-baseman Gene Freese from Philadelphia and outfielder Minnie Minoso from Cleveland.

"We added power and speed to our starting lineup without giving up any frontliners," said Lopez.

Lopez wouldn't make any predictions for the 1960 campaign but said "We've always been chasing the Yankees. Well, we're through chasing. Now they have to catch us."

The good senor indicated that might not be too easy. He said he was content with the club as it now stands but would be happy to add some reserve strength.

Someone asked Lopez to name a starting lineup and Al said "Luis Aparicio will be at short and leadoff and Nellie Fox will bat second. That's as far as I can go."

Bill Veeck, club president, chuckled and added "Yes, Luis will walk, steal second. Fox will single him home and our pitchers will shut out the opposition. That's all there is to it."

Joe Anderson paced his team to its first win by pumping in 14 points while Jim Eckstein added 12 in a 58-53 victory over Weekley's.

Morgon Barton was high for the game with 19 points in a losing cause. Wayne Cline added 16 for the losers. Hales' gained a 61-57 win over Klubert's. Bob Hull paced the winners with 25 and was high man for the evening.

Jan Burke's 20 markers topped Klubert's.

Paul Has No Qualms About Trading Temple

CINCINNATI (AP) — General Manager Gabe Paul, chief tradesman for the Cincinnati Reds, has no qualms about the swapping of his ace second baseman, Johnny Temple, to Cleveland.

Paul said Tuesday at the Reds' annual winter party that Temple will do well at Cleveland, but:

The Reds in the trade got pitcher Cal McLish, 19-game winner last season, plus two other players.

Paul said "McLish is a low ball pitcher and he'll get just as many calls in his favor in the National League as in the American League."

Paul also spoke of the trade of one-time slugger Frank Thomas to Chicago for relief pitcher Bill Henry.

"I imagine the deal with Chicago will come back to haunt us," he said, "but we had to think of our own ball club."

Waterfield Named New Coach Of Los Angeles

The 39 - year - old Waterfield thinks he has the prescription for whatever ails the puzzling club: "More wins, I guess. When you're losing, everyone is griping. We're gonna try to win 'em all."

Ol' Waterbuckts signed a five-year contract Tuesday. Salary terms were not disclosed. He replaces Sid Gillman, who left at the management's request last year after five seasons. Gillman since has become coach of the rival Los Angeles Chargers of the American Football League.

Last season the Rams were expected to be a top contender. But they folded into the cellar with a 2-10 record — their worst in history.

In his eight seasons with the Rams Waterfield led the club to two National Football League titles, four division championships and one tie for first place. He joined the Rams in 1945 after starring as a UCLA quarterback. He assisted Gillman during the 1958 season.

25,782 Playing Cage Sport In Ohio High School

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A total of 25,782 youngsters are scurrying over the hardwoods as members of Ohio's 993 high school basketball teams this winter.

For the first time in decades the number of schools is under the 1,000 mark, Commissioner W. J. McConnell of the Athletic Assn. said today.

Football, with 698 schools playing the regulation 11-man game in 1959, attracted the greatest number of scholastic athletes—27,817.

In all sports the eligibility lists show 106,067 on varsity squads. The breakdown for other sports (number of schools participating in parentheses):

Track (750), 22,489; baseball (862), 17,245; wrestling (141), 4,234; golf (262), 2,609) cross country (170), 2,550; tennis 142), 1,436; swimming (49), 1,471; six-man football (18), 295, and eight-man football (7), 139.

Fullmer-Robinson Bout In 'Planning' Stage

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A middleweight title bout between NBA champion Gene Fullmer and Sugar Ray Robinson is in the planning stage, Fullmer's manager said Tuesday.

Marv Jenson said negotiations may be completed in New York this week.

Robinson is recognized as the champ only in New York and Massachusetts, Fullmer in every other state.

Fullmer outpointed Robinson in January 1957 to take the title but Robinson knocked him out in May of that year to regain it. The NBA since has taken the title from him because of his infrequent defenses.

Scramble On In All-Star Bowling Meet

OMAHA (AP) — The scramble for the All-Star Bowling Championship got under way Tuesday in traditional fashion with the lead changing hands at the end of every squad in the men's division.

Smith had accumulated 78-09 Petersen points, the standard by which the champion will ultimately be decided, by the end of the round. Under the Petersen system a bowler gets one point for every game he wins and every 50 pins scored.

7-Minute Brawl Marks Pro Game In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — A pro basketball game was interrupted by a brawl Tuesday night that brought together the benches of the Cincinnati Royals and New York Knickerbockers.

New York finally won the National Basketball Assn. game, 141-123. It took seven minutes to pry the fighters apart, clear the floor and get the game started again.

The melee started after Cincinnati's Jack Twyman drove in and scored a field goal. Twyman and New York's Richie Guerin began trading punches and wound up struggling on the floor.

The rest of their teammates shoved and tugged and tried to separate the fighters.

Heavy Match 'Looks Good' After Talks

A smiling Johansson emerged from a one-hour conference Tuesday with Gen. Melvin Krulewitch, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission.

"Do you expect to fight Patterson in June," he was asked.

"I hope so," Johansson answered.

"Does it look better now than before you talked to the commission?"

"It looks good."

It had been a long day for the handsome Swede. In the morning he and his adviser, Edwin Ahlquist, Swedish promoter, were questioned for two hours at the office of the New York attorney general.

Irving Galt of the attorney general's office declined to discuss what happened. But it was learned Galt is probing any agreements made or planned for the rematch. The sale of radio, movie, and TV rights is believed to be the attorney general's chief concern.

A rematch agreement signed in August with Rosensohn Enterprises, later succeeded by Feature Sports Inc., has been placed at the disposal of the boxing commission for the first time. This agreement recently was purchased by Roy Cohn's eight-man promotional group which has applied for a license.

"We had a frank and friendly discussion," said Gen. Krulewitch after the meeting with Johansson and Ahlquist. "We gave Johansson an up to date statement of monies we are holding for him," said the general. Later he made public the amount, $153,475.17.

The champion confirmed he has asked for the $53,475.17 of his purse from last June's fight that exceeds the $100,000 to be placed in escrow to guarantee a return match. He did not get an answer. Gen. Krulewitch said he planned further meetings with the champion and his adviser at which the money will be discussed.

County Girl To Compete In National Baton Event

A Columbiana County girl will represent Ohio in the National Baton Twirling Contest Jan. 30-31 at St. Paul, Minn.

She is Miss Georgia Ann Lide, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Lide of Westville Lake, who won the state NBTA title last July 11 at Xenia in a contest sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

The St. Paul competition is the largest baton twirling event in America and one of the highlights of the annual Winter Ice Carnival there. Georgia Ann will compete against some 150 other junior twirlers from the United States and Canada.

Miss Lide's father is the Columbiana County game protector. She has been participating in twirling competition for more than two years and is the feature twirler of the Goshen High School Band at Damascus.

Miss Lide has won 45 trophies and several medals. She captured the 14-year-old championship and the senior championship at Burlington, Ontario, Canada, last summer.

She has appeared in numerous floor shows and parades and was featured in the "Bend Review" during the Meigs County Fair at Pomeroy last August.

A rematch agreement signed in August with Rosensohn Enterprises, later succeeded by Feature Sports Inc., has been placed at the disposal of the boxing commission for the first time. This agreement recently was purchased by Roy Cohn's eight-man promotional group which has applied for a license.

"We had a frank and friendly discussion," said Gen. Krulewitch after the meeting with Johansson and Ahlquist. "We gave Johansson an up to date statement of monies we are holding for him," said the general. Later he made public the amount, $153,475.17.

The champion confirmed he has asked for the $53,475.17 of his purse from last June's fight that exceeds the $100,000 to be placed in escrow to guarantee a return match. He did not get an answer. Gen. Krulewitch said he planned further meetings with the champion and his adviser at which the money will be discussed.

A Columbiana County girl will represent Ohio in the National Baton Twirling Contest Jan. 30-31 at St. Paul, Minn.

Finsterwald Wins Tourney

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dow Finsterwald, golf's third top money winner in 1959, was off to healthy start toward a lucrative 1960 today with $5,500 earned as the come-from-behind winner of the $37,500 Los Angeles Open.

The 30-year-old pro from Tequesta, Fla., heading for the nearby $20,000 Yorba Linda Open, which opens 72-hole play Thursday, won the 34th annual Los Angeles event with a calm 71 in the final round and a 72-hole score of 280.

It was a great day for Finsterwald but a sad one for a popular Los Angeles pro, Eric Monti, who led for three rounds and then exploded.

Monti went into the final round Tuesday boasting a lead of four strokes over Finsterwald. Eric took a 9-over-par 80 and finished in a tie for seventh place.

Monti, who also blew a lead in the 1955 Los Angeles event, had an awful day. He started the round with bogey-double and never could recover from the shock.

Finsterwald, who earned $33,906 last year and was the 1958 National PGA champion, toured the Rancho Municipal golf course, with its par 35-36—71, in 36-35—71. Monti did it in 41-39—80.

DiSalle Gives Review Of 1st Year In Office

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle marked completion of his first year in office Tuesday by reviewing Ohio's activities during the period.

Too much water and too little money were the immediate problems which faced the new administration, DiSalle recalled.

To fight what the governor termed a critical financial problem of a state which had outgrown its tax structure, the Democrat-controlled Legislature, at DiSalle's request, hiked taxes nearly a third of a million dollars.

"Both problems were met," the governor commented. He said Ohio is now financially stable while remaining attractive to business and industry.

"The year has been an extremely active one," DiSalle said. "For the governor it meant long working hours. Some achievements have been made for the improvement of state government. Others are still needed."

Stressing economy in government he cited the operation of the Welfare Department at a level some half-million dollars below its appropriation for personnel, removal of 450 cars from service by the Highway Department and reduction in the number of state employes.

Alleged Sniper Killer Expected To Change Plea

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Floyd E. Hargrove is expected to change his plea when arraigned Monday on a first-degree murder charge in the Christmas Eve slaying of Charles R. Clark.

A guilty plea entered by Hargrove in Municipal Court Jan. 4 while still under the effects of a so-called truth serum was removed from the records Tuesday.

Attorney Louis A. Turi's motion to nullify that arraignment was granted by Municipal Judge Albert W. Hayer. Although Turi has criticized authorities for allowing Hargrove to be arraigned while under the influence of sodium amythal, his motion was based on a technicality in the law.

Turi said Hargrove's plea and waiver of preliminary hearing should have been given in writing instead of orally. Turi was not at that time representing Hargrove, who had asked for the truth serum to help him recall some details in his account of the slaying.

Morse Criticizes Kennedy In Labor Law Acceptance

CLEVELAND (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) said today Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) "threw in the sponge" and accepted unfair provisions in the 1959 labor law.

Kennedy is a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination. Morse has authorized entering his own name in two Democratic presidential preferential primaries.

In a speech prepared for a Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen's convention, Morse said "the liberals wilted" in the fight over the labor control measure. He counted Kennedy among them.

Kennedy has said repeatedly the compromise bill eventually passed was the best that could be obtained.

Morse and the late Sen. William Langer (R-ND) cast the only Senate votes against the bill as it was finally revised by a Senate-House conference committee. Kennedy, who sponsored the Senate version, led the Senate conferees.

Electors Warned On Re-Registering Under New Laws

The 691 East Liverpool electors removed from registration rolls Dec. 31 may reinstate their registration by mail until Feb. 3 under a new state law, but after that deadline they will have to visit the County Election Board's office in person, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, warned today.

Only about 10 per cent of the disqualified voters have taken advantage of a postcard sent them by the board which they may complete and return in order to have their registration reinstated, O'Hanlon said.

The re-registration by mail is permitted for the first time this year under a new state law. The postcard form which voters may return is part of the notice which they were mailed by the board Jan. 3, explaining that their registration had been canceled under state law for failure to vote at least once in the preceding two years.

When the cards first were mailed, there was a rush of returns, but the responses now have dropped to a trickle, O'Hanlon said. The board also has received many enquiries about the registration deadline for the May primaries, O'Hanlon said. The last day to qualify is March 23 — 40 days before the voting. The registration books will not be reopened until 10 days after the election.

Finsterwald Wins Tourney

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dow Finsterwald, golf's third top money winner in 1959, was off to healthy start toward a lucrative 1960 today with $5,500 earned as the come-from-behind winner of the $37,500 Los Angeles Open.

The 30-year-old pro from Tequesta, Fla., heading for the nearby $20,000 Yorba Linda Open, which opens 72-hole play Thursday, won the 34th annual Los Angeles event with a calm 71 in the final round and a 72-hole score of 280.

It was a great day for Finsterwald but a sad one for a popular Los Angeles pro, Eric Monti, who led for three rounds and then exploded.

Monti went into the final round Tuesday boasting a lead of four strokes over Finsterwald. Eric took a 9-over-par 80 and finished in a tie for seventh place.

Monti, who also blew a lead in the 1955 Los Angeles event, had an awful day. He started the round with bogey-double and never could recover from the shock.

Finsterwald, who earned $33,906 last year and was the 1958 National PGA champion, toured the Rancho Municipal golf course, with its par 35-36—71, in 36-35—71. Monti did it in 41-39—80.

DiSalle Gives Review Of 1st Year In Office

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle marked completion of his first year in office Tuesday by reviewing Ohio's activities during the period.

Too much water and too little money were the immediate problems which faced the new administration, DiSalle recalled.

The January-February floods in Central Ohio and the spring floods in Cleveland resulted in claims of more than 2½ million dollars.

To fight what the governor termed a critical financial problem of a state which had outgrown its tax structure, the Democrat-controlled Legislature, at DiSalle's request, hiked taxes nearly a third of a million dollars.

"Both problems were met," the governor commented. He said Ohio is now financially stable while remaining attractive to business and industry.

"The year has been an extremely active one," DiSalle said. "For the governor it meant long working hours. Some achievements have been made for the improvement of state government. Others are still needed."

Stressing economy in government he cited the operation of the Welfare Department at a level some half-million dollars below its appropriation for personnel, removal of 450 cars from service by the Highway Department and reduction in the number of state employes.

Alleged Sniper Killer Expected To Change Plea

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Floyd E. Hargrove is expected to change his plea when arraigned Monday on a first-degree murder charge in the Christmas Eve slaying of Charles R. Clark.

A guilty plea entered by Hargove in Municipal Court Jan. 4 while still under the effects of a so-called truth serum was removed from the records Tuesday.

Attorney Louis A. Turi's motion to nullify that arraignment was granted by Municipal Judge Albert W. Hayer. Although Trui has criticized authorities for allowing Hargrove to be arraigned while under the influence of sodium amythal, his motion was based on a technicality in the law.

Turi said Hargrove's plea and waiver of preliminary hearing should have been given in writing instead of orally. Turi was not at that time representing Hargrove, who had asked for the truth serum to help him recall some details in his account of the slaying.

County's Draft Quota Only 2 For February

The youngest registrant who may be inducted on this call must be at least 22 years of age on or before Feb. 1, 1960, unless he is a volunteer.

Mrs. Elaine Griffith, clerk of the county's Draft Board 16 at Lisbon, said the two will be inducted Feb. 9, going to Cleveland. Seventeen will be forwarded for physical examinations on Feb. 16.

Banks Elect At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Two new directors were named to the Union Commercial & Savings Bank and G. A. Quay was re-elected chairman of the board of the First National Bank at annual stockholders' meetings Tuesday night.

Robert Burns of the Burns & Son Coal Co. and Hugh Madden of the J. G. Madden & Son Construction Co. were elected directors of the Union bank.

R. V. Beck was re-elected president. Others returned were J. R. Wilhelm, vice president; K. E. Rukenbrod, second vice president; Richard Mason, cashier and secretary; Mrs. Francis Kibler, assistant secretary, and Virgil Young, assistant cashier.

Other directors elected were Atty. J. E. Bauknecht, Beck, Donald Gillies, Paul Hankinson, E. H. McClure, Dr. Donald Rose, Rukenbrod and Wilhelm.

It was reported 1959 was a "prosperous year," but a financial report was delayed.

Re-elected directors of the First National were Atty. Jack Cohen, Dr. W. S. Elliott, Paul Lange, Harry Lawrence, Ralph Lemley, J. C. Quay and G. A. Quay.

Lange was named president, and Lloyd Lange was named cashier and secretary. The president said there was a gain of $430,000 in assets, making the total $4,800,000. There were 1,527 new loans, representing $2,132,000, and there were 38,210 patrons utilizing the drive-in window, an increase over 1958, Lange said.

Morse Criticizes Kennedy In Labor Law Acceptance

CLEVELAND (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) said today Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) "threw in the sponge" and accepted unfair provisions in the 1959 labor law.

Kennedy is a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination. Morse has authorized entering his own name in two Democratic presidential preferential primaries.

In a speech prepared for a Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen's convention, Morse said "the liberals wilted" in the fight over the labor control measure. He counted Kennedy among them.

Kennedy has said repeatedly the compromise bill eventually passed was the best that could be obtained.

Morse and the late Sen. William Langer (R-ND) cast the only Senate votes against the bill as it was finally revised by a Senate-House conference committee. Kennedy, who sponsored the Senate version, led the Senate conferees.

Girl Beater Sentenced

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—"I have seen neglect and abuse while I have been on the bench but never have I seen a little girl hurt like this." Judge David Black used those words in Domestic Relations Court Tuesday in sentencing Mrs. Arbutus Gumm, 21, to one year in Ohio Reformatory for beatig her daughter, age 6, with a leather belt. The girl is still in Middletown Hospital.

Electors Warned On Re-Registering Under New Laws

The 691 East Liverpool electors removed from registration rolls Dec. 31 may reinstate their registration by mail until Feb. 3 under a new state law, but after that deadline they will have to visit the County Election Board's office in person, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, warned today.

Only about 10 per cent of the disqualified voters have taken advantage of a postcard sent them by the board which they may complete and return in order to have their registration reinstated, O'Hanlon said.

The re-registration by mail is permitted for the first time this year under a new state law. The postcard form which voters may return is part of the notice which they were mailed by the board Jan. 3, explaining that their registration had been canceled under state law for failure to vote at least once in the preceding two years.

When the cards first were mailed, there was a rush of returns, but the responses now have dropped to a trickle, O'Hanlon said. The board also has received many enquiries about the registration deadline for the May primaries, O'Hanlon said. The last day to qualify is March 23 — 40 days before the voting. The registration books will not be reopened until 10 days after the election.

But Mayor Harding reported last night, "We are in full accord." At the meeting Sunday, there was some heated discussion on safety aspects of the pool, and the two members said they would quit when the mayor requested a formal report on the project.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman anounced Tuesday that former Lt. Gov. George D. Nye of Waverly will be the second choice of the slate of Ohio delegates to the Democratic national convention pledged to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. Nye is a former Pike County prosecutor and judge of probate and common pleas courts. DiSalle would pledge the delegation to Massachusetts Sen. John F. Kennedy for the presidential nomination.

Contact Man Cited By U.S. In Guns Case

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The second day of testimony begins today in the trial of six men accused of trying to fly stolen weapons to the former rebel forces of Fidel Castro in Cuba.

As the government opened its case in U.S. District Court Tuesday, Asst. U.S. Atty. Daniel Snyder singled out Victor Carlucci of New Kensington, Pa. as the contact man in the alleged gun-running plot.

Besides Carlucci, the defendants are Joseph Merola and Norman Rothman, both of Miami, Fla.; Stuart Sutor of Hialeah, Fla.; Joseph Giordano, New Kensington; and Daniel Hanna of Arnold, Pa.

The government contends rifles and machine guns stolen from an armory near Canton, Ohio, were flown from Allegheny Valley Airport near Tarentum, Pa., to Morgantown, W. Va., Nov. 4, 1958. Sutor, the pilot, was arrested at the Morgantown airport.

Snyder told the jury that Rothman made arrangements to have the weapons transported to Cuba, that Hanna transported the weapons to the plane and that Giordano bought burlap bags used to cover the guns.

Three cartloads of guns, including a mounted .50-caliber machine gun, were wheeled into the courtroom as evidence.

Elder Says 'Dry Your Tears' After Death Of Negro Bishop

By CHARLES L. WEST

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Sweet Daddy Grace was dead, but there was joy in his House of Prayer for All People Tuesday night.

"Dry up your tears," Elder Sloan Harvell told more than a thousand Negro followers of Bishop C. M. Grace. "You have nothing to weep for. He is not dead. He is gone away to prepare a place for us."

The meeting began in loud wailing and moaning. It ended in a weaving, bobbing, stomping dance of joy, accompanied by the blaring beat of a brass band, a Dixieland type band, and the frenzied babble of a hundred voices "speaking in tongues."

This was the mother church. It was from here in 1926 that the colorful Daddy Grace began to spread his gospel—essentially a gospel of Christianity—and build his kingdom from coast to coast.

The bishop set up houses of prayer in 67 major U. S. cities, gathered thousands of followers—more than 13,000 in Charlotte alone—and built a financial empire with the pennies and dollars of his faithful.

About a successor, Elder Harvell commented, "If God sees fit, he will send us another leader. But he has to have the spirit of Sweet Daddy. This is judgment work. We will know him."

Largest city-owned park in the U. S. is the South Mountain Park near Phoenix, Ariz. It has 15,000 acres of mountains and desert terrain.

Dear friends,

The least suggestion of show or display in any funeral service is in poor taste.

It has always been our thought that the funeral director should be as inconspicuous as possible. The many details involved should be looked after quietly, respectfully...the family should be relieved of all possible responsibility.

That is our duty...our service.

Respectfully,

Richard R. Martin

Offers Filed On Road Land

The State Highway Department filed offers in the clerk of courts office at Lisbon Monday for two tracts of land in West End which it seeks to acquire for the right-of-way of the first stage of a four-lane freeway from California Hollow to W. 3rd and Monroe Sts.

The state said it has offered $13,500 for lot 1037 and part of lot 1038 in William Anderson's First Addition on W. 9th St., a tract of eleven-hundredths of an acre owned by James B. Moss, 508 W. 9th St. The offer includes $12,200 for the building and $1,300 for the land, the state's proposal said.

At the same time, the Highway Department proposed to pay $2,500 for three lots and a part of a fourth in Curry's Addition between W. 8th St. and Carpenters Run, owned by Myron S. Grama of Salem. The tract totals twenty-nine hundredths of an acre. The offer includes $2,350 for the land and $150 for the building occupying it.

The property-owners have 15 days in which to appeal or accept the offers. The state's petitions would require them to vacate the property 60 days after it changes hands.

In early December, the Highway Department announced it had acquired three other tracts of land along W. 9th St. and would offer them for sale Dec. 29. However, the sale later was canceled.

The city freeway will tie in at the corporate limits with the southern end of a Ohio River-Lake Erie Freeway stretching from East Liverpool to Ashtabula.

The Highway Department announced Monday bids will be received March 15 for a $2,250,000 Ashtabula County section of the lake-river highway. On April 12, bids estimated at $3,792,000 will be taken for 2 other sections of the same highway in Ashtabula County.

Registration Urged For Hancock Farmers

Hancock County farmers planning to participate in the 1960 agricultural conservation program should begin registering at the Agricultural office in New Cumberland.

Mrs. Norma Murray, Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee office manager, said farmers have until Feb. 12 to sign for the first allocation of conservation funds.

Farmers should visit the office between 8 a. m. and 12 noon Monday through Friday and bring soil samples, she said.

3 Children Watch Father Kill Their Crippled Mother

EATON, Ohio (AP)—Three of their children had no choice but to watch their father shoot and kill their mother Tuesday night, Sheriff Floyd Spitler reported.

Mrs. Myrtle Josephine Mackey, 38, a cripple, was shot and killed in the home of a neighbor in nearby Sugar Valley.

The sheriff arrested Theodore Mackey, 46, who said he had become enraged when he received a notice of a divorce hearing.

Spitler quoted Mackey as saying he borrowed a rifle and when he found the family at the neighbor's home, Mackey said, this happened:

"I told them to stand back and don't move. She came at me and I spun her around and shot her in the back. She ran to the kitchen. I followed her and finished it up."

No charge was filed immediately.

The sheriff said witnesses of the shooting were the neighbor, John Shinn, 40; the Mackey children including a married daughter, Mrs. Doris Fields, 21, and her three-year-old daughter.

Offers Filed On Road Land

The State Highway Department filed offers in the clerk of courts office at Lisbon Monday for two tracts of land in West End which it seeks to acquire for the right-of-way of the first stage of a four-lane freeway from California Hollow to W. 3rd and Monroe Sts.

The state said it has offered $13,500 for lot 1037 and part of lot 1038 in William Anderson's First Addition on W. 9th St., a tract of eleven-hundredths of an acre owned by James B. Moss, 508 W. 9th St. The offer includes $12,200 for the building and $1,300 for the land, the state's proposal said.

At the same time, the Highway Department proposed to pay $2,500 for three lots and a part of a fourth in Curry's Addition between W. 8th St. and Carpenters Run, owned by Myron S. Grama of Salem. The tract totals twenty-nine hundredths of an acre. The offer includes $2,350 for the land and $150 for the building occupying it.

The property-owners have 15 days in which to appeal or accept the offers. The state's petitions would require them to vacate the property 60 days after it changes hands.

In early December, the Highway Department announced it had acquired three other tracts of land along W. 9th St. and would offer them for sale Dec. 29. However, the sale later was canceled.

The city freeway will tie in at the corporate limits with the southern end of a Ohio River-Lake Erie Freeway stretching from East Liverpool to Ashtabula.

The Highway Department announced Monday bids will be received March 15 for a $2,250,000 Ashtabula County section of the lake-river highway. On April 12, bids estimated at $3,792,000 will be taken for 2 other sections of the same highway in Ashtabula County.

Registration Urged For Hancock Farmers

Hancock County farmers planning to participate in the 1960 agricultural conservation program should begin registering at the Agricultural office in New Cumberland.

Mrs. Norma Murray, Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee office manager, said farmers have until Feb. 12 to sign for the first allocation of conservation funds.

Farmers should visit the office between 8 a. m. and 12 noon Monday through Friday and bring soil samples, she said.

3 Children Watch Father Kill Their Crippled Mother

EATON, Ohio (AP)—Three of their children had no choice but to watch their father shoot and kill their mother Tuesday night, Sheriff Floyd Spitler reported.

Mrs. Myrtle Josephine Mackey, 38, a cripple, was shot and killed in the home of a neighbor in nearby Sugar Valley.

The sheriff arrested Theodore Mackey, 46, who said he had become enraged when he received a notice of a divorce hearing.

Spitler quoted Mackey as saying he borrowed a rifle and when he found the family at the neighbor's home, Mackey said, this happened:

PROSPECTING BY HELICOPTER

A great ridge, just north of Glacier Peak, has been known as Miners' Ridge for some 60 years. It was named by prospectors who, with pick and shovel, first learned of the ridge's copper deposits. In 1900, a mining and smelting company staked several claims on the ridge, but the mines were not put into production, mainly because of their inaccesibility.

In 1954, another mining company, from Spokane, became interested in the historic ridge. A small exploration crew was sent into the area by pack train.

Since then, the project has expanded far beyond the ability of packers to sustain it. Three years ago, experienced mountain flyers, piloting helicopters, assumed the job of supplying the operation.

At Miners' Ridge today, the 35 to 40 men at work are transported quickly and comfortably by helicopter; they are served fresh fruit, vegetables and meat, brought in daily by the 'copters. The men even get a daily mail delivery by air.

Aim of the Miners' Ridge work now is to learn the extent and worth of the copper deposit. Cores of rock have already been taken from more than 1,000 feet deep in the ridge.

12 Refractories And Union Reach Pact Agreement

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Agreement on a new contract between the United Brick & Clay Workers Union and 12 refractory companies was reached Tuesday night.

A vote on ratification of the pact by some 10,000 workers involved is expected within two weeks, said Federal Mediator George Woomer.

The union was seeking 15-cents-an-hour wage hikes. The company had been offering a base rate increase of seven cents an hour annually with increment increases in accordance with job classifications. Present pay scale ranges from $2.60 to $2.70 an hour.

The union also sought improved insurance and pension plans and increased supplemental unemployment benefits.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Laggard Requires Special Attention

Many a letter I receive from parents tells of the child who doesn't pay attention while they help him at home with his lessons. Often they relate a teacher's complaint that the child is inattentive at school and doesn't work hard there. Frequently, both teacher and parent dub him as lazy.

By Garry Meyers

He may be lazy in terms of Webster's definition: "disinclined to action or exertion". But calling him lazy and rebuking and punishing him don't help get him over it. When parents and teachers refer to the school laggard as lazy they have this word and the vague idea it expresses to hide behind. They shift all the blame to the child. By washing their hands of responsibility, they salve their conscience.

—:—

LAZY IS not only a useless word, it is a harmful word. It keeps adults from trying to find out why the child doesn't concentrate, pay attention, exert effort. It keeps them from seeking ways to get this child to try as hard as they think he should.

If you suppose your child is lazy, or if his teacher says he is, have your physician check his physical health and well-being. Then look into his general mental health.

Does he feel worthwhile as a person at home, school or elsewhere? Are there many things, even a few things, at which he enjoys success? What are the times and places when he seems to be lazy?

You must have noticed he's very attentive, eager and active when he's doing what he likes to do and what, as a rule, he does well.

IT'S POSSIBLE to make a pupil be in a certain place and even to sit in a position where he will appear to be attentive. But no matter how attentive he may be from outward appearance, there seems to be no way to force him to be attentive from within.

We win his attention when we reach a stage that interests him. But he may not be interested long in book learning if he isn't succeeding at it and he can't succeed at it — spelling, reading, arithmetic — if he does not have sufficient skill and knowledge.

We may require him to keep saying certain words or symbols until he's able to remember them; we may require him to write words or figures a number of times; we may force him to do certain things we can see or hear him doing — but we can't, by commanding him, guide much that goes on in his head.

IT'S AT HOME where we can most easily make him do certain things, like chores. We can know when he's doing them, when he has finished them and how well he has done them. We can hold him to certain family regulations. We might hope that this training will carry over to his getting into a position to pay attention at school. Yet we must remember that he does the attending or concentrating from inside himself.

My bulletins, "The Child Who Doesn't Concentrate" and "Home Helps in Reading, Spelling, Arithmetic and Handwriting," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Senate's Facing Fight On Clean Elections Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate headed into a scrap today over a bill to require fuller disclosure of campaign financing and to increase legal spending ceilings.

The clean elections measure was cleared by leaders as the first major legislation to be taken up at this session of Congress.

Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo), the chief sponsor, said prompt action on the bill is necessary if it is to govern this year's election campaigns.

The bill was approved by the Rules Committee last July as the minimum necessary to bring the 1925 Corrupt Practices Act up to date.

One key issue is whether to make the legislation apply to primary elections. In its present form it applies only to candidates for federal offices running in general and special elections.

Spanish-Chirping Birds Give Smuggler Away

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"Buenos dias, senor," the parrot said.

After all, he had reasoned, how would anyone know the birds found in his plane came from south of the border?

12 Refractories And Union Reach Pact Agreement

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Agreement on a new contract between the United Brick & Clay Workers Union and 12 refractory companies was reached Tuesday night.

A vote on ratification of the pact by some 10,000 workers involved is expected within two weeks, said Federal Mediator George Woomer.

The union was seeking 15-cents-an-hour wage hikes. The company had been offering a base rate increase of seven cents an hour annually with increment increases in accordance with job classifications. Present pay scale ranges from $2.60 to $2.70 an hour.

The union also sought improved insurance and pension plans and increased supplemental unemployment benefits.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Laggard Requires Special Attention

Many a letter I receive from parents tells of the child who doesn't pay attention while they help him at home with his lessons. Often they relate a teacher's complaint that the child is inattentive at school and doesn't work hard there. Frequently, both teacher and parent dub him as lazy.

By Garry Meyers

He may be lazy in terms of Webster's definition: "disinclined to action or exertion". But calling him lazy and rebuking and punishing him don't help get him over it. When parents and teachers refer to the school laggard as lazy they have this word and the vague idea it expresses to hide behind. They shift all the blame to the child. By washing their hands of responsibility, they salve their conscience.

—:—

LAZY IS not only a useless word, it is a harmful word. It keeps adults from trying to find out why the child doesn't concentrate, pay attention, exert effort. It keeps them from seeking ways to get this child to try as hard as they think he should.

If you suppose your child is lazy, or if his teacher says he is, have your physician check his physical health and well-being. Then look into his general mental health.

Does he feel worthwhile as a person at home, school or elsewhere? Are there many things, even a few things, at which he enjoys success? What are the times and places when he seems to be lazy?

You must have noticed he's very attentive, eager and active when he's doing what he likes to do and what, as a rule, he does well.

IT'S POSSIBLE to make a pupil be in a certain place and even to sit in a position where he will appear to be attentive. But no matter how attentive he may be from outward appearance, there seems to be no way to force him to be attentive from within.

We win his attention when we reach a stage that interests him. But he may not be interested long in book learning if he isn't succeeding at it and he can't succeed at it — spelling, reading, arithmetic — if he does not have sufficient skill and knowledge.

We may require him to keep saying certain words or symbols until he's able to remember them; we may require him to write words or figures a number of times; we may force him to do certain things we can see or hear him doing — but we can't, by commanding him, guide much that goes on in his head.

IT'S AT HOME where we can most easily make him do certain things, like chores. We can know when he's doing them, when he has finished them and how well he has done them. We can hold him to certain family regulations. We might hope that this training will carry over to his getting into a position to pay attention at school. Yet we must remember that he does the attending or concentrating from inside himself.

My bulletins, "The Child Who Doesn't Concentrate" and "Home Helps in Reading, Spelling, Arithmetic and Handwriting," may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Senate's Facing Fight On Clean Elections Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate headed into a scrap today over a bill to require fuller disclosure of campaign financing and to increase legal spending ceilings.

The clean elections measure was cleared by leaders as the first major legislation to be taken up at this session of Congress.

Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo), the chief sponsor, said prompt action on the bill is necessary if it is to govern this year's election campaigns.

The bill was approved by the Rules Committee last July as the minimum necessary to bring the 1925 Corrupt Practices Act up to date.

One key issue is whether to make the legislation apply to primary elections. In its present form it applies only to candidates for federal offices running in general and special elections.

Spanish-Chirping Birds Give Smuggler Away

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"Buenos dias, senor," the parrot said.

That did it. Robert Harold Gebhart, charged with smuggling 65 parrots from Mexico, shrugged and changed his plea to "no contest" from innocent.

After all, he had reasoned, how would anyone know the birds found in his plane came from south of the border?

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: These are the facts: I married Brad two years ago. He said he was college educated, a hero in the Korean War and spent 20 months in a veterans hospital. He claims he received a citation for an injury suffered while dragging a buddy to safety under heavy fire.

His parents are dead but he says they left him a large estate which he can't get because a crooked lawyer bured the will. He also claims he is the illegitimate grandson of Georgi Zhukov.

Last night his billfold was on the dresser and I wanted to surprise him with a new picture of myself. I noticed his draft classification card under my old picture when I went to remove it. I wasn't snooping, Ann, but I couldn't help but notice it said 4F.

It also stated he was born in 1926 which means he is 34 and not 29 as he had led me to believe. I am so upset I don't know what to do. He is very sensitive and gets angry when anyone questions him too much. Shall I tell him what I know?—SHOCKED WIFE.

Dear Shocked: Your husband sounds like more than the ordinary garden-variety liar. When a person mixes up fantasy with fact to this extent he is mentally ill.

Tell him what you know and suggest that he get help. Your family doctor can direct him to a mental health clinic if he cannot afford private psychiatric care.

Small Town Girl

Dear Ann: I'm a woman in my late 20s who was reared in a small town. I never had an opportunity to travel until I got this job with a cosmetic firm.

I meet many nice men in my work and get asked out to dinner. Can you tell me if it's proper for the gentleman to come to the door of my hotel room when he picks me up or should we meet in the lobby? Also, should he say good night in the lobby or see me to my door? A certain man told me it was small-townish to meet and greet in the lobby. — GRASSY GREEN.

Dear Grassy: The lobby is like the front door of your home, so to speak. Your hotel room is your bedroom.

If your were at home a gentleman wouldn't come to your bedroom door to get you, nor would he escort you there at the end of the evening.

Tell "that certain friend" to say his hails and farewells in the lobby. Suggest that he wipe the egg off his face and use the house phone when he arrives. That's what it's for.

Sagacious Seniors

Dear Ann: The other day you ran a letter from a woman in her 30s who is about to marry a man 5 inches shorter than she. She wanted to know if it would be all right if he wore elevator shoes and she wore ballet slippers.

I wish that self-conscious couple could have been with me the other night when I chaperoned a group of high school seniors. There were at least 20 girls at the party who were 5 feet 10 or taller. They all wore high heels and were having a wonderful time. The boys were cutting these tall gals left and right—and many of the eagerest beavers were 5 feet 5 and shorter.

Ann Landers wil' be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Sen. Young To Get 'Citizen Of Year' Award From AVC

WASHINGTON (AP)—A "citizen of the year" award will be made June 11 to Sen. Stephen M. Young (D-Ohio) by the American Veterans Committee — partly for his blast at the American Legion.

This was disclosed Tuesday by Young's office. AVC describes itself as a liberal veterans group of about 25,000 which bars Communists from membership. Young is an AVC member.

In a wire to Young, AVC Commander Mickey Levine of New York said the award was for "his forthright action in delivering an effective blow in favor of individual freedom."

This, said AVC, specifically includes Young's row with the American Legion in Cincinnati over his determination to speak before the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee last month.

The Ohio legionnaires claimed this committee was a Communist front and urged him not to speak. Young called his legion critics loud-mouthed, publicity-seeking professional patriots.

Last Sunday, the Fourth Ohio District of the American Legion decided to ask that Young be expelled from his legion post in Cleveland.
